FOREWORD

Building, in its physical nature, is evidenced by recent construction and expansion on campus, just as the inanimate building of students whose choice of building blocks of knowledge is evidenced by their maturity—intellectually, socially, and religiously, in a collegiate atmosphere. Building is a ceaseless thing, not to be restrained in a democratic country, whether it be in an architectural plan or in a young developing mind. With these pre-conceived thoughts, “building” was chosen as the theme of the 1962 Reveille.

College buildings are an inter-relation of many parts as each day they are given life by instructors and students with the echoing click of a typewriter, the babble of a foreign language, lectures on psychology, history and literature, chalk marks scratching through the solution of a geometric equation, brush strokes in oils, and the scraping noise of a sander on wood. The sounds contribute to the character of the buildings; for within these edifices, lives are shaped and molded into the design and pattern that these men and women will follow in their careers tomorrow.

Each student is striving to make himself whole and complete by learning about the tools and materials appropriate to his chosen field of study, finding his place in society through the social interchanges and events of campus life and securing his religious beliefs on the Seventh Day. His character is building and the student expands within himself just as the campus buildings will continually expand to better facilitate his acquisition of knowledge.

This has been your year at Fort Hays State and within the 1962 Reveille your memory will be sharpened with reminders typical of a college year. It is your book in pictures and in words. May you find your growth marked here as though a picture arresting you from time's relentless pace and whether you reflect on it with a smile, frown, or tear, your building continues upward with but a record of one year's growth.

BUILDINGS

New buildings, additions, remodeling projects—all are evidence of physical progress of the Fort Hays State campus in the last few years. New residence halls and apartment buildings, the addition to Science Hall and the remodeling of Picken and Martin Allen Halls, plus the planning of other new structures, indicate how the college seeks to meet the demands of increasing enrollments.

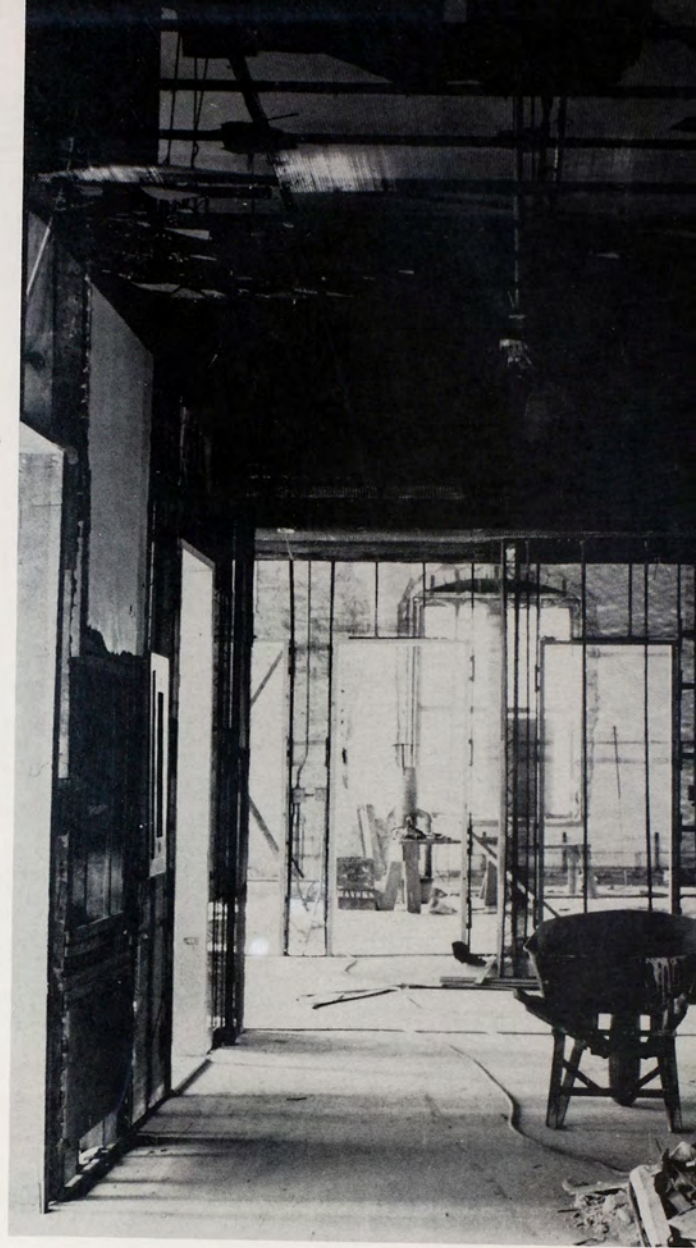

Sheridan Coliseum, long a symbol of Fort Hays State, is a gathering spot for campus visitors as well as a classroom and administration building. It's here that college policy is formed and carried out, here that classes meet, and here that the Tiger basketball team meets its opponents in home games.

DEDICATION

DR. W. D. MORELAND
Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences

Dr. Moreland has made invaluable contributions to the building of Fort Hays State College both educationally and physically. Honor is due him for years of devoted service as manifested in the scholarship program, the Memorial Union and the student housing program—phases of the college with which he has been intimately concerned.

He came to Fort Hays State in 1933, as Assistant Professor of Social Science and served in the capacities of Professor, Head of Department of Political Science and Sociology, Director of Housing, Dean of Men, Chairman of many committees including the Memorial Union Building Committee while it was in the process of raising money and planning the building. In 1960, Dr. Moreland was appointed Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences.

IN MEMORIAM

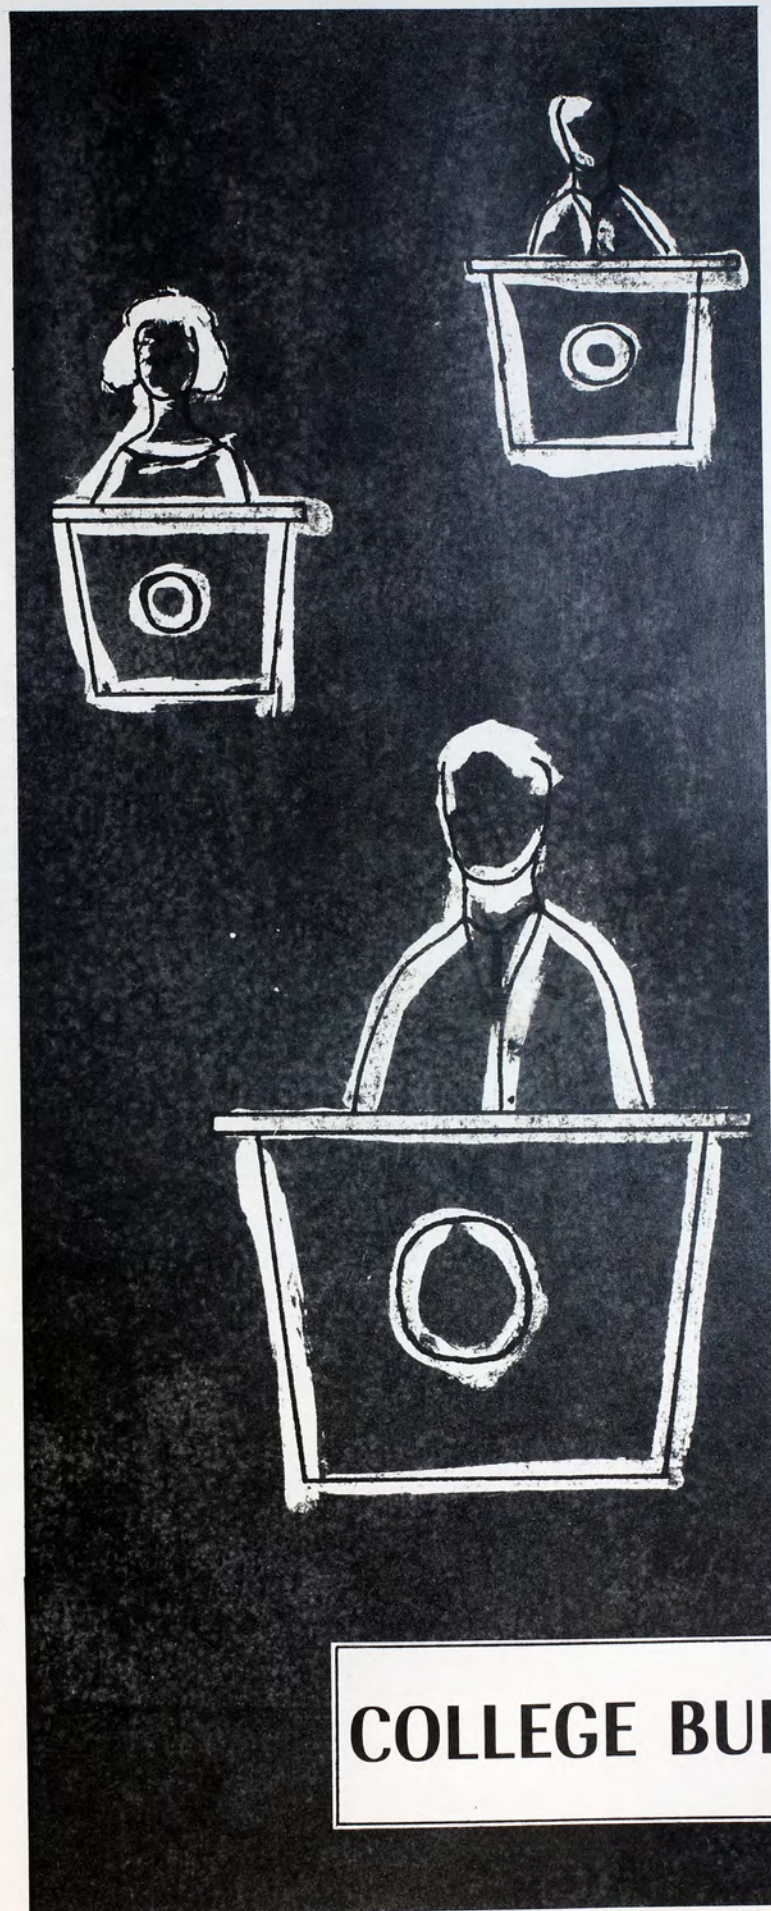

DR. FRED W. ALBERTSON
1892-1961
Professor of Botany
Fort Hays State College

A Christian gentleman whose life served as the highest ideal to which students and colleagues could aspire. Known for his high standards of scholarship, his painstaking research and, above all, his humanitarianism in all areas of life. A man whose unselfish devotion to others gave him no time to think of self.

College builders are those men and women behind the desk and in the classroom who are the mediums conveying from their knowledge and through their inspiring challenge to others, that which is most beneficial in providing students with the desire to learn, to seek out for themselves. Instructors, professors and doctors alike, daily dedicate themselves to their profession, awakening the mind and learning processes of the student.

Education has long been a building process and its successful continuance will always be dependent on the strength and solidity of the foundation structure—the teacher.

Equally important in the total building, are the student leaders in government, activity and academic standing. Their contributions to Fort Hays State are not unminded for the college is bettered by their efforts.

COLLEGE BUILDERS

Consultations with advisers and instructors help students to formulate their plans.

ASC members count election ballots.

Teacher supervision in the classroom aids student progress.

Testing of all sorts is part of psychology.

PRESIDENT M. C. CUNNINGHAM

A rare moment of relaxation.

The Cornerstone

Probably more than any other single individual—President Cunningham personifies Fort Hays State. To students, he is a friend, as well as The President; to faculty members he is an inspiration and administrator; to Western Kansas he is Fort Hays State—a devoted and dedicated builder and educator.

The president and his lady entertain all new students and quickly establish a common bond with each one.

First as a freshman—now as a graduate—it's hand-shaking time.

Faculty Senate

The Faculty Senate is composed of nine elected representatives from the faculty and three ex-officio members, the registrar, dean of the graduate division and the dean of the college. Three faculty members are elected each year for a term of three years.

The Faculty Senate serves as a clearing house for all academic matters. It has general supervision of the catalogue, schedule of classes and the advisement program.

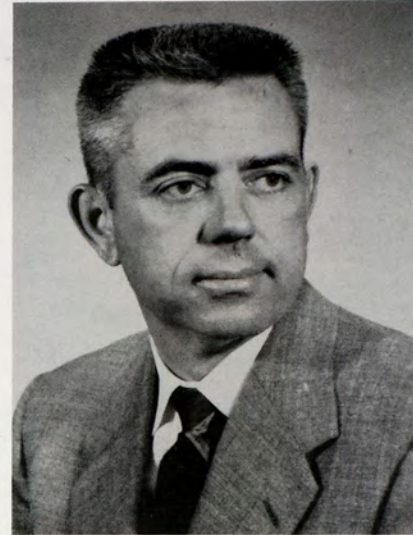

The Senate has power only to recommend to the faculty for its action, matters which come before it. The faculty, after considering the recommendations, has the power of recommending to the administration of the college.

E. R. McCARTNEY, Dean of the College (professor of economics and business), A.B., M.A., Ph.D.

STANDLEE V. DALTON, Registrar and Director of Admissions (professor of botany), A.B., M.A.

WALTER E. KEATING, Comptroller (associate professor of economics and business), A.B., M.S., ibid.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

As a building is only as strong as its foundation, a strong administration underlies the college structure. Fort Hays State is justly proud of its administration and of the rank and achievements of the college.

Fort Hays Kansas State College is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Teacher Education, the National Association of Schools of Music, and the American Association of University Women.

Through the cooperative efforts and dedicated service of the administrators, the educational program offered by the college continues to expand and improve, providing a comprehensive curriculum leading to bachelor, master, and specialist degrees.

Eleven divisions of the college provide a broad program, including general education, a liberal arts and sciences program, professional, pre-professional and vocational preparation in a wide choice of subject fields.

An enlarged working area and new furnishings make work easier for personnel in the Registrar's Office and waiting time more pleasant for students, as well as facilitating the vital work of the record keepers.

Improvements and Changes Affect Administrators

RICHARD E. BURNETT, Executive Assistant to the President. (assistant professor), A.B., M.Ed.; Graduate Work, ibid.

For many administrators and other faculty members, this has been a year of face-lifting and moving. Remodeling projects have added space and convenience for many offices.

Particularly improved are the Registrar's Office and Business Office, both are nearly doubled in size and availability to students. Relocation of offices of the dean of men, dean of women, housing director, graduate office, extension, correspondence, alumni secretary, employment and placement in Picken Hall expedites the work of these essential offices and makes them more accessible to students.

With the addition to Science Hall nearing completion and plans underway for the new Speech and Music Center and a library, the unceasing efforts of the administration to increase the physical structure as well as the academic opportunities is evident.

RALPH V. CODER, Dean of the Graduate Division. Chairman of Division of Language, Literature and Speech; (professor of English), A.B., William Jewell College; M.S., State University of Iowa; Ph.D., ibid.

JAMES D. CONDIE, Director of Housing. B.S., Utah State University; M.S., University of Denver.

DOLLIE V. THOMAS, Assistant to the President (assistant professor of economics and business), B.S., business, Fort Hays Kansas State College; M.S., ibid.

JEAN STOUFFER, Dean of Women (assistant professor), A.B., University of Kansas; B.S., ibid.; M.A., Syracuse University.

BILL D. JELLISON, Dean of Men. (assistant professor), B.S., Fort Hays Kansas State College; M.A., ibid.

Extension, Alumni and Memorial Union

Through correspondence courses, extension classes and personal contacts with high school teachers, students, and friends of the college in Western Kansas, Fort Hays State renders a broad educational service far from the campus.

The Alumni Association promotes the purposes and ideals of FHS through promotion of the endowment fund, scholarships and loans, as well as homecoming and other annual activities.

All pathways on campus eventually lead to the Memorial Union, which is truly the heart of FHS and the community center for all members of the college family.

Biological Sciences

This division embraces the study of the living world, both plant and animal. The fundamental facts and principles of life itself are studied in biology, while botany pertains to the necessity of plants in supplying food, clothing, and shelter for mankind.

Livestock feeding and farming projects, zoological studies of Kansas animal life, and their associated programs are major endeavors in this division.

Social Sciences

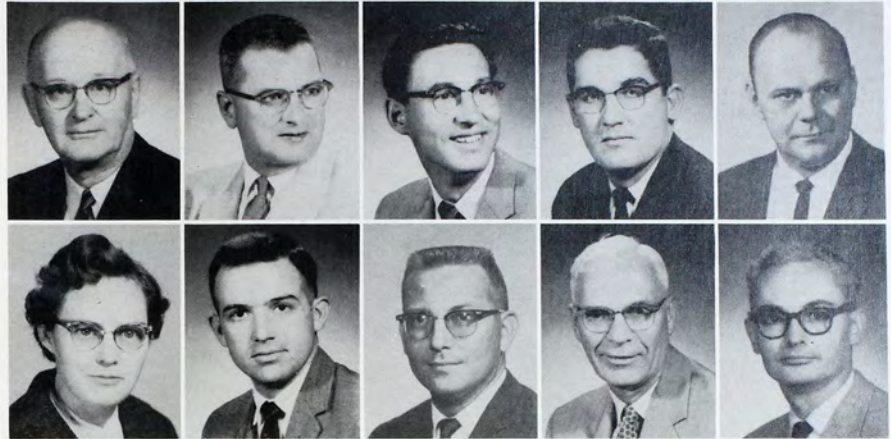

Building foundations for professional careers in law, social service and government service, as well as for teaching, is the objective of the Social Sciences.

Geography concerns itself with the earth, its surface and elements. The field of History presents accurate information concerning the past which is needed for one to reach intelligent opinions on problems that concern citizens of a democracy. Political Science is the study of government, law, and the principles and ideals which underlie political organization.

Applied Arts

Furthering creative talent through instruction, is the goal of the Applied Arts department.

Art furnishes an appreciation and enjoyment for all students. It leads to practical use of art in the commercial and vocational fields. Industrial arts provide practical experience for the development of the "handy-man" abilities and prepares the student for future specialization. Training in Home Economics prepares students for homelife as well as preparing them for a vocation.

Health, Physical Education and Recreation

The Health, Physical Education and Recreation division promotes the health and physical well-being of students while in college. By participating in these courses and activities, students learn the importance of good health and physical habits. Students also are trained to become teachers and leaders in this profession.

Economics and Business

The goal of the Economics and Business division is to urge students to develop a broad understanding of the entire field of economics and business administration. At the same time it stresses the practicability of its curricula in meeting present economic situations.

Secretarial courses taken carry full academic credit for a B.S. in business.

Music

The division of music seeks to nurture the musically talented through instruction and practice. Music teachers for schools in Kansas are given preparation for future careers. Instructors help instill music appreciation by teaching basic music concepts and presenting music history.

Students participate in a variety of musical organizations which provide music on the campus and surrounding areas.

Physical Sciences

Since the earth and its surroundings are composed of either organic or inorganic matter, physical science students study the composition of these substances and the laws involved.

The physical sciences include chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics, and astronomy. Many courses in these selected fields are considered instrumental courses, while others contribute to professional training.

Nurse Education

To prepare efficient, responsible professional nurses, is the objective set by the Fort Hays Nurse Education Division. In addition to classroom instruction, students are affiliated with Hadley Memorial Hospital in Hays. Advanced students go to Chicago, Denver, and Topeka for advanced training.

Language, Literature and Speech

In the busy world today, it is necessary to comprehend and communicate fluently. Fort Hays offers German, Spanish, Latin, and French.

A student of literature gains insight into cultural backgrounds, the characters and ideals of mankind down through the ages. Literature also offers a wholesome recreation.

Courses in Speech strive to develop skill in self-expression, while speech correction courses train therapists for careers of service in a growing field.

Library Science

Forsyth Library offers a wide variety of services to the student besides reference books and periodicals. Such services as an audio-visual department, a photographic service, and lending library services.

Teachers in library science provide training prescribed by the Kansas State Board of Education and North Central Association for teacher librarians in the high schools of the state.

Education and Psychology

The education division provides professional preparation for teachers in elementary, secondary, and junior college levels. The curriculum includes a program of a sound general education.

The field of psychology prepares students to become professional psychologists and helps them toward self-understanding.

Philosophy enables the student to discover philosophical attitudes about life.

Student Court and All Student Council

The A.S.C. is now working under a new Constitution of Associated Students of Fort Hays Kansas State College, which was adopted last spring. It is the legislative branch of student government which was provided by the Constitution.

The other branches are the judicial, in the form of a student court, and the executive, made up of the president and vice-president of A.S.C. The Council is composed of officers of the four classes and representatives of living districts.

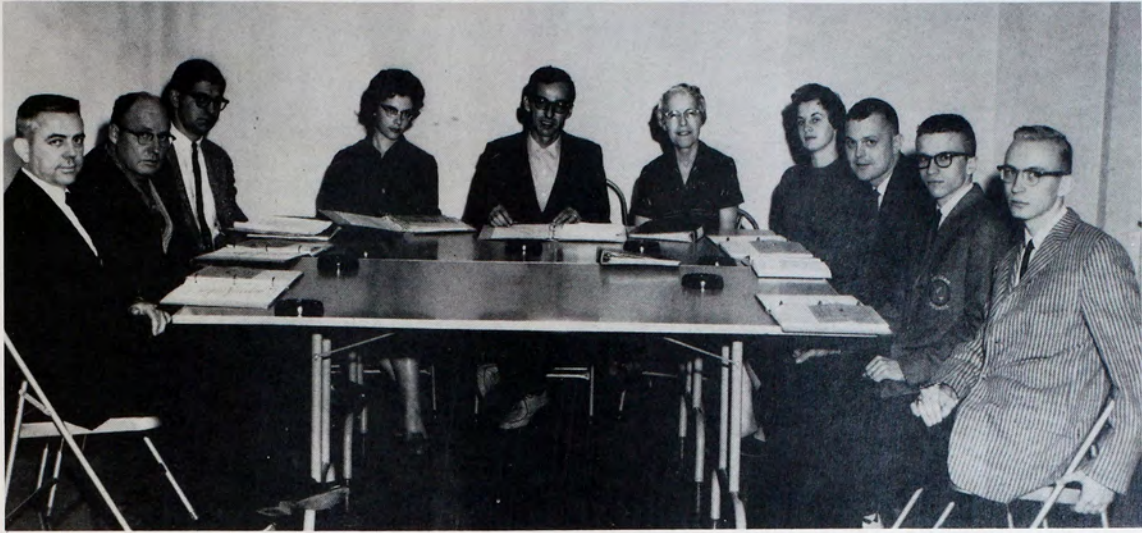

Many accomplishments have been made this year by the A.S.C. The legislation passed bills providing the machinery and procedure for passing all legislation; a bill on elections which set up the procedure for annual student elections; a bill on court which established the jurisdiction and procedure for the student court.

A.S.C. also undertook several campus projects and has considered various problems of concern to Fort Hays State students.

Union Board

Union Board members formulate and recommend policies regarding the operation and program of the Memorial Union. Five faculty members and seven students compose this executive body which meets monthly.

The union director and college comptroller have permanent membership on the board. The remaining three faculty members are appointed by the president of the college. Six students with previous union committee experience and with a grade average of at least 1.3 are appointed by the board, plus one representative named from the Student Council. Harvey Niermeier heads the Union Board.

Union Program Council

Union Program Council serves as a clearing house for all program plans of the eight union committees. Members are also responsible for advising and co-ordinating the union committees in their programs. Applications for membership on Program Council can be made in the Program Center.

Committees offer students an opportunity to plan and administer program events, and to provide a starting point for later Program Council and Union Board membership. The Program Council is headed by Bob Hayden, Betty Brandenburg, sponsor.

Honors Seminar

Honors Seminar is a program dedicated to stimulate the superior student to the fullest possible development of his potential. Juniors and seniors who have shown exceptional intellectual achievement in this college may be invited to participate. Throughout the program the student has an opportunity to decide what will be studied and how the seminar will be organized.

Under the guidance of faculty consultants, small groups of such students are granted the privilege of studying broadly challenging topics, free from many of the limitations of ordinary course work. Emphasis is given to the consideration of ideas and issues which confront mankind in the search for truth. An invitation to participate in Honors Seminar is the highest academic privilege the college can bestow.

Who's Who Among Students

In American Colleges and Universities

Each year approximately 750 colleges and universities recognize their outstanding students by naming them to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Nomination is made by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, potential leadership ability, and participation in collegiate activities. To be eligible, a student must have at least a grade point of 2.0. A total of 32 Fort Hays State College seniors fill this year's quota.

STUDENT BUILDERS

John Sullivan, president of Interfraternity Council and Alpha Psi Omega, an active member in Pi Kappa Delta, Alpha Psi Omega and debate, exemplifies outstanding leadership qualities.

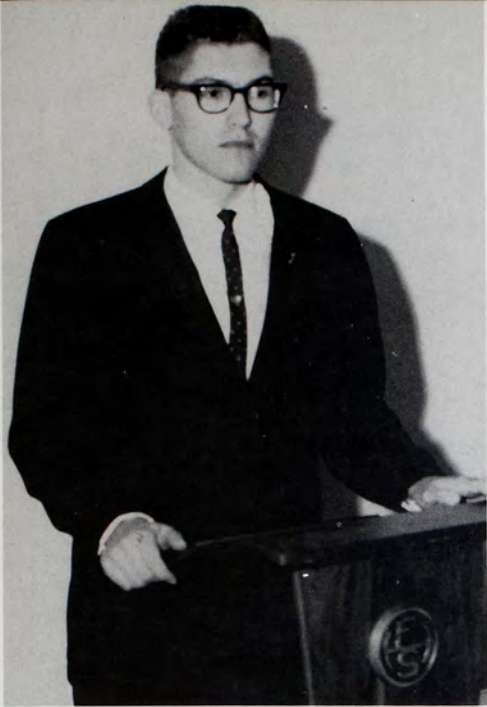

The man behind the camera, Terry Banister, is a senior photographer who has taken untold hundreds of pictures for news release and year-book use.

Steve Blain, Leader editor, is a symbol of the power of the press. Through his writing skill he provokes students to think and decide matters of individual and college significance.

Elbert "Bunny" Cobbs is known as an all-around "nice guy" and a good athlete, and a builder too, in being the first Negro athlete to come to FHS.

Larry Ehrlich, chosen and elected by the students as ASC president, is, by their vote, representative of student thought and policy.

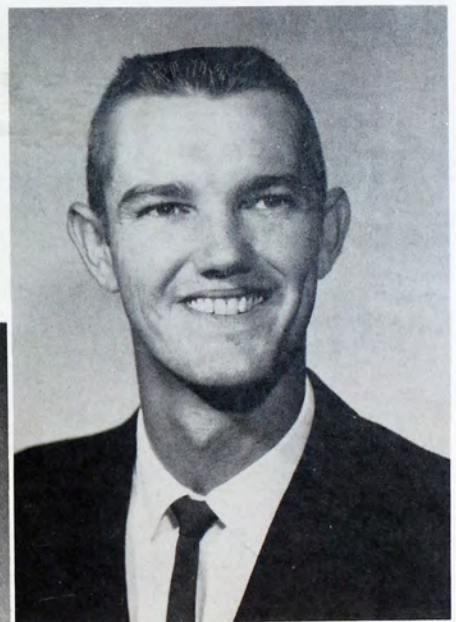

Jary McLean outpointed all competition to win the award as Outstanding Freshman Chemistry student.

Dan McGovern won second place in extemporaneous speaking in the Harvard University debate tourney and ranked among the top 20 of 210 debaters entered in the meet.

These students are but a sampling of the many who build through selection and approval by fellow students, individual efforts and research, and academic achievement to leave an indelible mark on the structure of the college year.

Gale Wolters, graduate student, was awarded the Albertson book scholarship for outstanding achievement in botany.

Marilyn McGuire won the Outstanding Psychiatric Nursing Award while on affiliation at Kansas State Hospital, Topeka. Selection is made from among nursing students of all schools of nursing affiliated with the hospital.

MORE STUDENT BUILDERS

A transfer to F.H.S. last year, Barbara Wiley has earned recognition for outstanding art work, particularly in the field of design.

John Huber, a four-year instrumentalist, has been a valuable asset to band, brass choir, and orchestra, as well as Phi Mu Alpha and Seventh Cavalry.

Margaret Willson, an outstanding soprano soloist, has played feature roles in choir shows and musical productions.

Joyce Eisenhower won the American Association of University Women Award as the Outstanding Senior Woman of the year at F.H.S. As a music major, she and her trumpet have been an asset to the music department all four years.

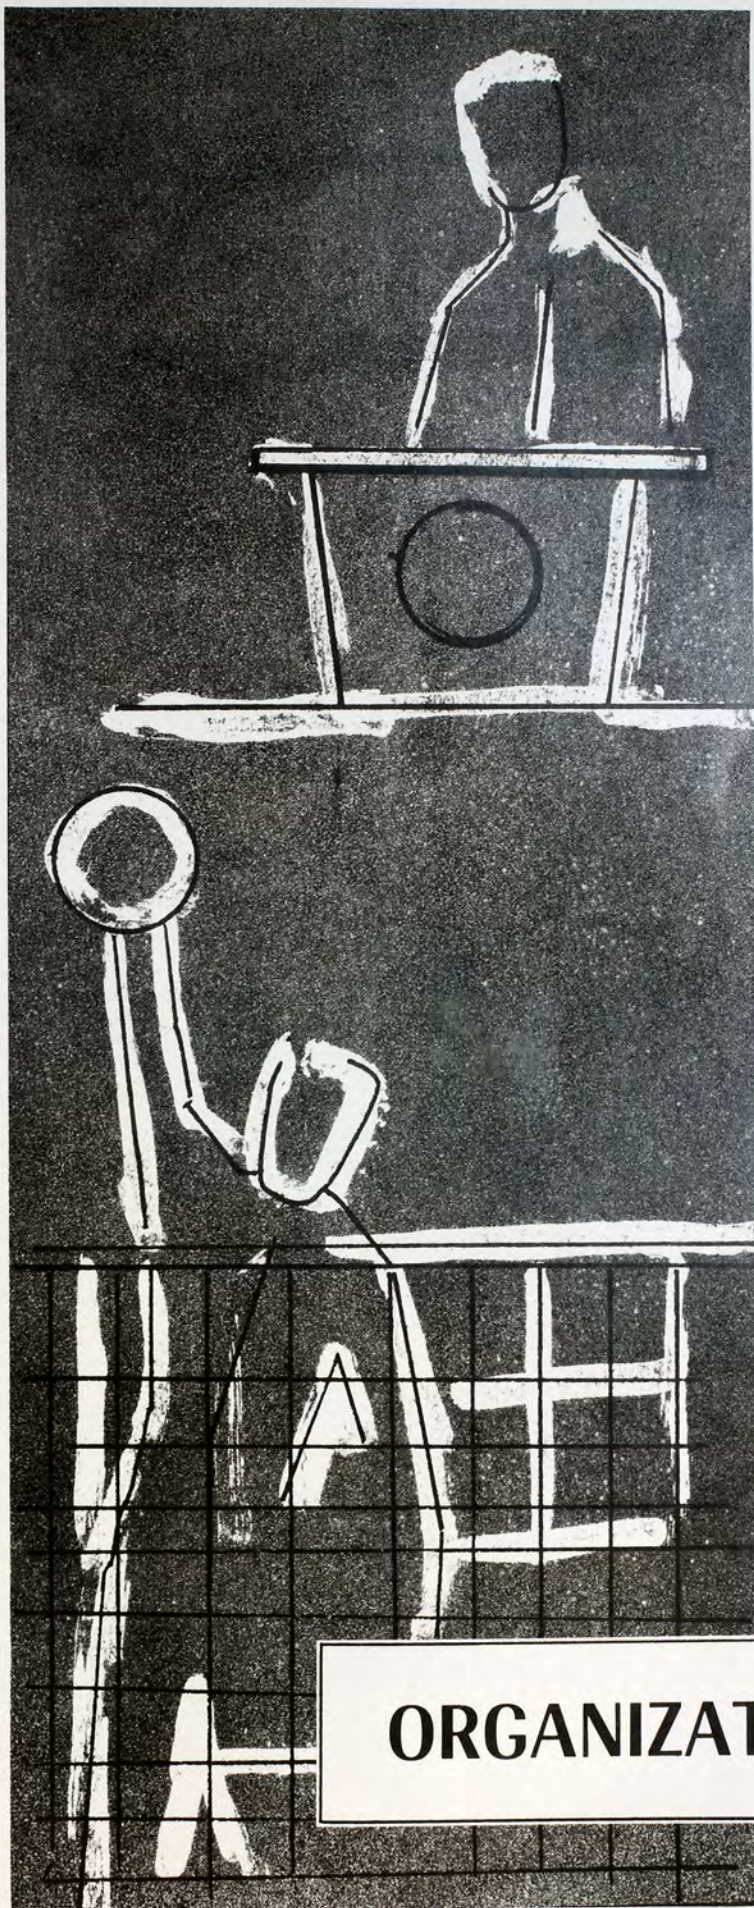

Recognition for the highest grade average, for the fall semester, of all sorority actives was awarded to Sharon Kiel; Lana Suelter received recognition as the highest grade ranking pledge.

Departmental, all-school, service, religious, musical and honorary organizations encourage students to accept responsibilities and provide a testing ground for them to develop their varied interests. Through membership in student organizations, students find release from their studies and return to them afresh.

Extracurricular activities have earned their place in the domain of education, helping to develop the student's character and building self-confidence in his abilities.

All growth cannot be intellectual if one is to live among his fellow men, for though much is learned in books, man needs the companionship of his associates.

Collegiate Republicans

Anyone interested in the Republican party is eligible to join the Collegiate Young Republicans at Fort Hays State. The group strives to stimulate interest in national, state, and local politics.

This year the Collegiate Republicans welcomed speakers Bob Dole, Sixth District Representative from Kansas, and Kansas' Lt. Governor, Harold Chase. Members also travel in groups to other cities in Kansas to hear noted speakers.

Dale Crain was chosen president of the group and Dr. W. D. Moreland advises the club.

Lt. Gov. Harold Chase met with Young Republicans to discuss state politics.

Tom Smith and Bill Hayes report to Dr. Witt on their trip to Miami to the national convention.

Collegiate Democrats

Two members of the local club attended the National Convention of Collegiate Young Democrats in Miami. Members also attended the state convention in Wichita in March.

A variety of special programs were planned for Collegiate Young Democrats' meetings including panel discussions and guest speakers.

The 180 members heard Congressman Floyd Breeding speak on campus at their October meeting.

Bill Hayes served as president; Robert Witt is sponsor.

Tigerettes

Tigerettes, the upperclass pep club, draws its members from former Kit Kats who display enthusiasm and school spirit.

Members wear black skirts and gold sweaters the day of each game.

By sitting together in a section at all home games, sponsoring pep rallies, and by taking part in the Homecoming parade Tigerettes promote student enthusiasm and lend color to all athletic events.

Joyce Philip led the Tigerettes; Dr. Wilda Smith sponsors the group.

Kit Kats

Present at all home football and basketball games, members of Kit Kats displayed good sportsmanship and promoted the athletic program at Fort Hays State.

Kit Kats are freshman women who support sports activities by wearing the traditional black uniform on game days and sitting in a special section at games.

Members of Kit Kats took part in the Homecoming parade and often formed an aisle through which team members entered the playing field or floor.

The Leader

The State College Leader, called The Leader for short, is the official student newspaper of Fort Hays State College. The Leader is published weekly on Thursdays during the school year and twice monthly during summer session.

The Leader provides a means of gaining practical experience in newspaper work for students interested in journalism. Both the editorial and business departments are staffed and managed by students. Editors and staff members learn how to sell and lay out advertising, make-up pages, write news and headlines, correct copy and proof and all the other tasks involved in the publication of a newspaper.

Lights in Martin Allen Hall have often burned late as staff members make last minute changes or re-arrange a page for a late-breaking story.

The Leader is a self-supporting organization. Revenue from advertising sales pays the printing costs (the paper is printed in the college print shop on campus), engravings and postage. In addition, advertising revenue pays editors' and other staff members' salaries.

Malcolm Applegate, journalism instructor, serves as Leader adviser. Steve Blain edited the paper this year.

Four student photographers serve The Leader, The Reveille and the news service.

Reveille Staff

Building the 1962 Reveille from the first glimmer of an idea to its final cover-bound edition was achieved through the co-ordinated efforts of a 24-member yearbook staff.

From the Reveille's cubbyhole working area in Martin Allen Hall, the scheduling of pictures, laying out pages, writing copy, selling ads, and meeting deadlines enlivened staff members' activity time with a profitable initiation into the journalism world.

The Reveille Ball, sponsored by the yearbook staff, was the first all-school winter formal dance. Sandra Barnett reigned as 1962 Reveille Queen. The yearbook cover replica revealed a building theme with its building block pattern, and Dr. W. D. Moreland was introduced as the dedicatee.

Marilyn Orme edited the 1962 book, assisted by Pat McCall; Roberta Dickey was business manager. Mrs. Katherine Rogers sponsors the yearbook.

Dames Club

The Dames Club offers the wives and mothers of married college students and married women students the opportunity to forget about the children, the dishes and studying while they enjoy the company of each other.

Part of a national organization, the local chapter has 51 members. Nancy Schmidt is president and Mrs. Dollie Thomas and Mrs. Mollie Wallerstedt serve as advisers. Mrs. James Belisle was elected to serve as the faculty-wife sponsor for this school year.

Projects sponsored by the Dames this year included a Christmas party for their children, a tea for the faculty wives in the spring, and an annual dinner-dance for members and their husbands.

Second Generation

Sons and daughters of former students and alumni of Fort Hays State make up the membership of Second Generation Club.

The major project for the club is the planning of Parents' Day. Second Generation Clubbers act as hosts and hostesses during Parents' Day and welcome returning students at Homecoming.

President of the club is Courtney Burroughs; Myrl Walker is the adviser.

Parents enjoy the art exhibit while touring the campus on Parents' Day.

From left: Jim Coulson, Virginia Lorbeer, Karen Schwein, Paul Schlegel.

International Relations Club

By welcoming foreign students to the campus, International Relations Club strives to bring Fort Hays Staters into closer contact with students of other nationalities.

Each year members of International Relations Club sponsor at least one foreign student at Fort Hays State. A spring dance helped raise money for the foreign student next year.

The Foreign Affairs Conference held each fall on the campus is also an IRC project. This year's topic was Latin America and featured government officials from Peru, Columbia, and Brazil.

Other activities include speaking engagements in the area for foreign students, entering a foreign students' float at Homecoming, and bringing in guest speakers on foreign problems for club meetings.

Debate

Fort Hays State debaters represent the college at tournaments all over the country.

A squad of ten students interested in debate meet with Coach Jim Costigan each day to perfect their arguments and develop skills.

Veteran debaters John Sullivan, Dan McGovern, and Janey Weinhold were the mainstays of this year's team. First year squad members were Joné Burris, Gloria Dizmang, Roger Moffett, Sally Saunders, Delores Musgrave, Royer Barclay, and Robert Ochs.

Scriblerus

Scriblerus Club members try their hands at self-expression through creative writing.

Constructive criticism by other club members helps young writers to improve their style.

Members of Scriblerus contribute to "The Sheaf," a literary publication sponsored by the English department.

Anyone interested may join Scriblerus. Eugene Mullen sponsors the group, Larry Heffel was president.

Little Theater

Two major productions highlighted the year for the Little Theater. Moliere's "Les Misanthrope" was the fall show and in late spring the group presented "Come Back, Little Sheba."

Anyone who expresses an interest in dramatics may join Little Theater and work in any of several areas—staging, costuming, business management, or performing.

A special production this year was a Christmas pageant given at the faculty Christmas party. Little Theater members assist with the Follies and with other all-school activities.

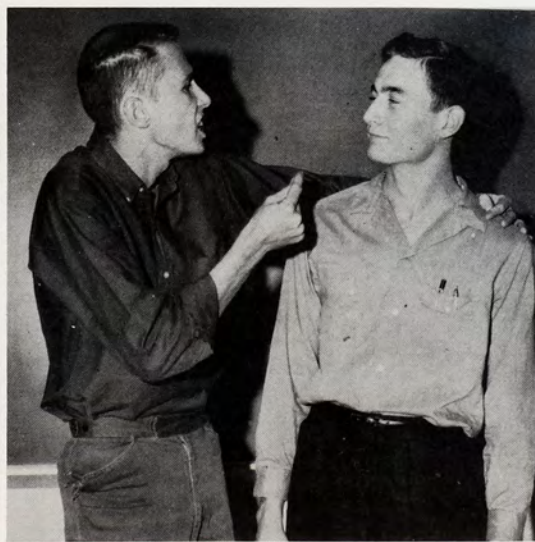

Miss Harriet Ketchum is sponsor, Richard Hawkins was president.

Judy Grimm tries on her costume for "Les Misanthrope" while designer Richard Boss and seamstress Sarah Cain make some last minute adjustments.

One phase of Little Theater work is interpretative reading, done here by Pat McAtee.

French Club

Dr. Audrey Greenwood is sponsor and Lucille Dinges, president of the French Club. All students enrolled in French classes are eligible for membership.

French Club tries to stimulate interest in France and its customs while encouraging the study of the French language.

At the club's Christmas party Louis Sebastian, a local resident, spoke on Christmas customs in his native France. The group also sang French carols.

German Club

Anyone interested in German Club is eligible to become a member. Those students who have previously had, or who are taking German, find the club especially profitable.

German Club aims at acquainting the students with German customs and the language.

An annual event for club members is the German band which marches and plays in the Homecoming parade.

Dr. Paul Graber sponsors the group; Ralph Schlick was president this year.

Mathematics Club

Interest in mathematics is all that is required for membership in Math Club.

The organization strives to give members a better understanding of math through informal study.

Discussions of unusual problems as well as those which occur in every day life situations are some of the topics at Math Club meetings.

O. E. Etter sponsors the group and Carl Mooney has been president this year.

Chemistry Club

Chemistry Club honors both an outstanding senior and freshman for achievement in chemistry each year at a spring banquet which climaxes the year's program.

Speakers and special programs highlight the regular club meetings.

The club strives to further the interest shown by members and inspire them to further study in the field.

Larry Becker served as president; Robert Richards was the sponsor.

Psychology Club

Psychology Club, new on campus this year, tries to provide a stimulus for higher academic achievement and increased interest in psychology.

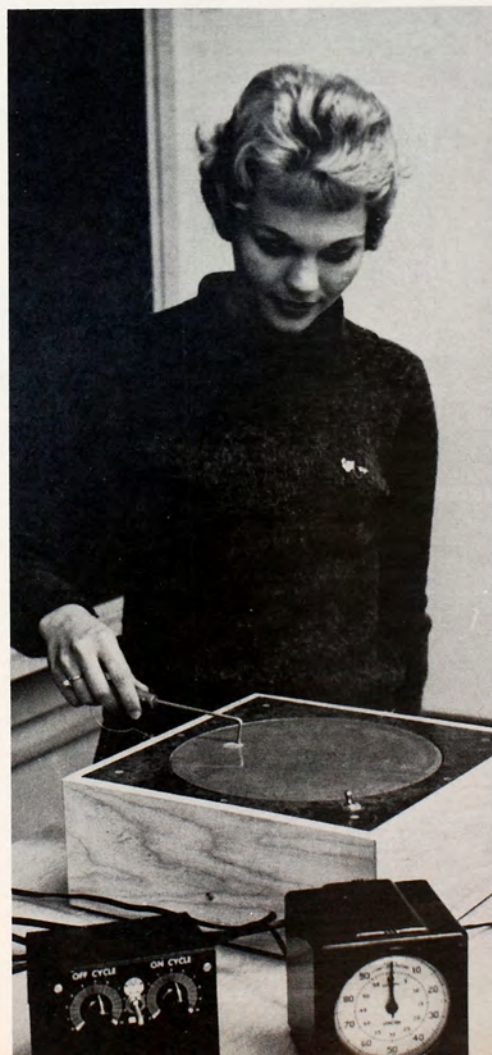

Discussions and films on topics related to psychology constitute the programs at the club meetings.

To become a member of Psychology Club a student must have an over-all grade index of 1.7 and be in the upper one-third of all psychology courses in which he is enrolled.

The club took part in the Science Open House in the spring.

Gary Howard was president; Kenneth Smoot sponsors the group.

Fort Hays Nurses Club

Re-creation of the old Tommy Drum saloon of Hays during the Centennial celebration was fun and profitable for the Nurses Club. The saloon featured a barbershop quartet and can-can dancers as well as the old-fashioned bar (with soft drinks, of course).

From the profits of the "saloon" the club sent 19 members to the state nurses' convention in Topeka and carried out the year's program of activity and philanthropy.

Filling holiday food baskets, participating in Hadley Hospital's rehabilitation projects and a variety of club meeting activities kept the 86 members busy.

Judy Greenway was president. Mrs. Lila Colburn is adviser, assisted by other members of the nurse education faculty.

Industrial Arts Club

More than 100 industrial arts students take part in a variety of activities offered by the Industrial Arts Club.

Field trips and various money-making projects take place throughout the year. As a climax to the year's activities, the group sponsors the Western Kansas Industrial Arts Fair for high school students in this part of Kansas.

Club members have made bicycle racks for the college and this year made the Homecoming trophies. They also give a dinner, honoring the club member with the highest grade point each semester.

Don Hullman headed the group this year; Rex Nelson is sponsor.

These "pioneers" enjoyed the food they prepared for the Home Economics Club Centennial supper.

Home Economics Club

Women enrolled in home economics courses find an opportunity through Home Economics Club to supplement classroom work for their own professional advancement.

A pioneer dinner, complete with costumes appropriate to the period, marked the Centennial year. Various types of entertaining were instructive as well as social and enabled the club members to feel a closer bond and to enrich their day-to-day training.

Christmas caroling, a picnic and more serious activities rounded out the year's program.

Mrs. Maxine Hoffman sponsors the club and Marilyn Ruth is president.

Orchesis

To give interested students a broader background in dancing is the aim of Orchesis, sponsored by Elizabeth Barbour.

This year the group presented programs at the WRA play days both semesters, entertained with a pom-pom routine during the half-time of one basketball game, and cooperated with the Glee Club and Impromptos in the pops concert, "Poise and Ivy." Members of Orchesis also took part in "Brigadoon" in March.

Penguin Club

Try outs are open to all men and women students interested in joining Penguin Club.

Encouraged by the remodeling and reconditioning of the pool this year, the club promoted interest and skill in swimming through the production of the water show.

"K" Club

"K" Club members earn letters by meeting requirements of participation in approved sports and maintaining the required academic standard.

Their jackets are badges of identification, seen far from Hays, as well as on campus, and are proudly worn. No member of a college organization is as long identified with Fort Hays State as a "K" man, and few return to the campus more often.

The club contributes to the scholarship fund with profits from the concession stand at home games. Erection and maintenance of the "K" on College Hill west of the campus is another project of the club.

Through regular letters to all "K" men, the athletes of the past and the present are united in a bond of common interest.

Kent Bauer was president this year; Cade Suran sponsors the club.

There is always a thirsty crowd at a game and "K" Club does the work.

"Busch" Gross, a former "K" man and now director of athletics at Fort Hays State, points out basketball stars of other years to "K" Club members Gary Donner, Deke Brinkman, and Stan Hogsett.

Coordination of the varied activities of the Women's Recreation Association requires much planning by the WRA executive committee.

WRA

There's activity all year for the 100 members of Women's Recreation Association. To finance a heavy program, the group operated a concession stand at football games and realized a profit of approximately $1,000.

Two full-year scholarships are granted each year, one to an incoming freshman woman, and one to an upperclassman; the recipients must participate in women's sports activities.

Overnight camping, swimming, bowling, folk dancing and skiing provide fun for all members. In addition, the group sponsors non-member activities such as the recreation evening for both men and women students.

Also concerned with physical education programs in high schools, the WRA members sponsor a play day for high school girls and visit area schools, demonstrating sports techniques and teaching new games.

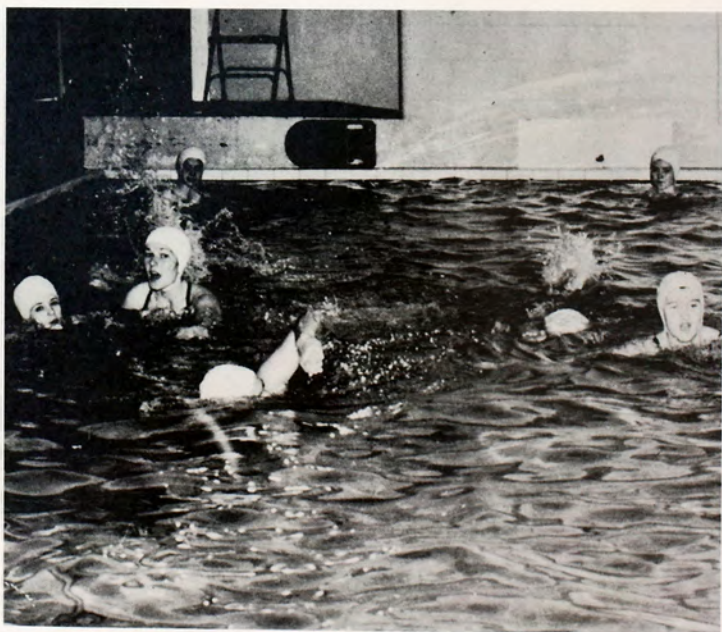

Judy Rinker and Phyllis Bigby are co-sponsors and Beverly Winder was president.

Up in the air goes a high school visitor during the WRA play day.

Eying the snowy slopes are Marilyn Warehime and Wanda McClurg, WRA skiers, on a between semester jaunt to Hidden Valley, Colo.

President Jim Johnson and the executive board work closely with the Kansas State Teachers Association in planning their program and activities. The KSTA meeting in November is a highlight of the year.

SNEA

With a membership of 262, the Student National Education Association is one of the largest clubs on campus.

All students planning to teach are eligible and are urged to join the club which strives to improve and increase interest in teaching.

Each fall the organization assists with planning and coordinating events for the Kansas State Teachers Association convention held on campus in early November, and acts as campus hosts for several thousand visiting teachers.

Members of the club build a float each fall for the Homecoming parade and strive to participate in a well-rounded program of student activities which will prove beneficial to them as teachers.

Jim Johnson was president and Dr. Bill Broach and Dr. Kenneth Lewis were sponsors of the club.

A variety of speakers and panel discussions provided the programs of Student National Education Association meetings.

UNION COMMITTEES

Eight student committees sponsored by Mrs. Betty Brandenburg take charge of activities of the Memorial Union.

Formal dances and weekly TGIF dances are planned and sponsored by the Dance committee. The Union birthday party, Christmas party, and other special days are under the direction of the Hospitality committee.

Music in the Meadlowlark room, exhibits for the second floor gallery, and the movie schedule for the year are all supervised by committee members. The game room, tournaments, and other recreational projects are handled by the Games committee while the Publicity committee publicizes everything that happens in the Union.

Members of the art committee hang pictures for the exhibits in the second floor gallery of the Union.

Dance committee members Kay Price and Larry Cox learn the "Twist" as demonstrated by Lindon Montgomery and Bonnie Guttridge.

Vocal groups offer a variety of talent and style in entertainment. The Concert Choir, largest and most select of the units, and the Fort Hays Singers, are directed by Donald E. Stout and are composed of music majors while the Glee Club and Impromptuos are informal selected groups of non-music majors directed by Mary Maude Moore who sing for the pleasure they give and receive.

Through BRIGADOON, the POPS CONCERT, their tours and various on-campus performances, each organization fills a distinct spot in the total music picture at Fort Hays State and together they are responsible for both formal and informal entertainment and performances, on and off campus.

Instrumental Ensembles

Musicians from the Fort Hays State student body and faculty join with those from Hays and the surrounding area to form the College-Community Orchestra.

From the complete group, smaller orchestras are chosen to perform at various functions during the year.

A small selected orchestra accompanied Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in February and the entire orchestra climaxed the spring concert series with a program in May.

The orchestra is directed by E. Edwin Moyers.

Brass Choir, directed by Leland Bartholomew, was composed this year of "returning lettermen"—students who have been playing with the choir for more than one year.

The choir took a two-day tour in November in conjunction with a tour made by the Fort Hays Singers, and was in great demand for Christmas programs at Hays churches. A winter concert climaxed the groups' efforts this year.

The Clarinet Choir was organized the second semester under the direction of Harold Palmer. The group is composed of various kinds of clarinets.

A new musical organization, the Recorder Ensemble, was formed during the first semester. It was primarily for the purpose of helping future music teachers become acquainted with the recorder—an instrument much like the sweet-wind of grade school days.

Miss Phyllis Schleich directed the Recorder Ensemble.

FHS Bands

Members of the Fort Hays State Band are chosen each year on the basis of auditions.

Largest of the bands, marching band is especially active during football season performing original half-time shows, and leading the Homecoming parade.

The concert band made a two-day tour in April during which they presented a total of seven concerts for schools in Southeast Kansas including two Wichita high schools and Hutchinson Junior College. At home they gave three regular concerts and a concerto concert which featured student soloists and student conductors. In each of the concerts, a wind ensemble of 37 selected members was featured.

Spirit at all the home basketball games was boosted by the presence of the lively pep band.

From rehearsal to production, a band show takes many hours of work.

Horn tooters are on hand at all home basketball games to entertain the fans and add to the crowd's enthusiasm.

Sigma Alpha Iota

To uphold and further interest in music are the aims of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music fraternity for women.

Women music majors having a 2.0 average in music courses are eligible for membership.

Each year members usher at musical functions, give receptions for visiting artists and hold a recital of contemporary music. They also help once a month at Hadley Rehabilitation Center.

Members of the local chapter work for awards presented by the national organization.

President of the group this year was Dorothy Voss; Lucille Felten is the adviser.

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha practice for their spring concert of contemporary music.

Phi Mu Alpha

Members of Phi Mu Alpha, professional music men's fraternity, take part in a variety of activities throughout the year.

Local chapter members have a popular dance band, usher at music concerts and recitals and take field trips to see and hear artists and productions in the surrounding area.

In collaboration with SAI, the men of Phi Mu Alpha presented a recital of contemporary music in the spring.

Leland Bartholomew was the adviser of Phi Mu Alpha; Francis Wilson was president.

Dedicated to music, the men of Phi Mu Alpha formed a dance band for their own enjoyment as well as for appreciative audiences.

Phi Eta Sigma

A brother organization to Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma is for freshman men who achieve a first semester grade index of 2.5 or an average of 2.5 for both semesters.

Faculty members are also members of the organization, chosen on the basis of superior achievement in their field.

Larry Glennemier was president this year; Richard Burnett and Bill Jellison sponsor the group.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics honorary fraternity, chooses its members on the basis of their achievements in dramatics.

To earn points for Alpha Psi Omega membership, students help with the publicity, make-up and stage properties for all campus productions as well as taking parts in various plays.

Glenda Morris was president; Dr. Geneva Herndon is the sponsor.

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, forensic honorary organization, exists to stimulate interest in debate and public speaking.

Members participate in intercollegiate tournaments each year and the national organization of Pi Kappa Delta sponsors a national convention biennially.

Steve Staub was president of Pi Kappa Delta; Jim Costigan advises the group.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta is the national honorary society in the field of historical studies.

Membership is open to students who have a B average in history and in other fields as well.

Monthly meetings of the organization feature discussions and the presentation of historical papers.

Larry Heffel was president of the group; Gordon Davidson is the adviser.

Lambda Iota Tau

To encourage the recognition of scholarship in the area of literature and language is the aim of Lambda Iota Tau, national honorary language and literature fraternity.

Students with at least a 2.0 grade average in 6 hours of literature are eligible for membership.

The group meets regularly to discuss recent novels, and in the spring publishes a collection of literary studies containing student written essays on literature.

Dr. Audrey Greenwood advises the group.

Kappa Omicron Phi

Attending the national conclave of Kappa Omicron Phi at Memphis, Tenn. highlighted the year for two members and the sponsor of the Fort Hays State chapter of the home economics fraternity.

The local group entertained freshman and sophomore home economics students at a formal tea in September. In February the new initiates prepared and served an old-fashioned dinner to celebrate the chapter's birthday.

Sophomore women in their second semester of school who place in the upper ten per cent of the home economics classes in which they are enrolled are eligible to become members.

President was Joanne Griffiths; Alice Beesley is adviser.

Speech and Hearing Society

Organized in the fall of 1961, the honorary Speech and Hearing Society had twenty charter members. In November, 1962 the group will become affiliated with Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech and hearing fraternity.

Society members work at the Hadley Speech Correction Clinic as a part of their training. As a social service project they baked cookies for the Christmas stockings of children at the clinic.

Weekly meetings feature programs related to speech correction. A business meeting is held once each month.

Shara Margheim was president of the new group; Dr. Geneva Herndon is the sponsor.

Delta Tau Alpha

Founded by the National Association of College Teachers of Agriculture; the local chapter of Delta Tau Alpha, honorary agriculture fraternity, is in its second year at Fort Hays State. Agriculture students may qualify for membership in their junior or senior year. All members must have at least fifteen hours of agriculture courses, maintain a 2.0 grade average in their major, and have a 1.5 overall grade average. J. R. Wells is the fraternity representative for the fourteen-state Central State Region and sponsor of the local chapter. President of the Fort Hays State chapter is David Welch who replaced Bob Krug who was called to active military duty.

Epsilon Pi Tau

Junior and senior students who are in the upper one-fourth of all their classes and who are majoring in industrial arts are eligible for membership in Beta Theta chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, honorary industrial arts fraternity. Money-making projects provided funds for a scholarship for above-average industrial arts students. Members also help coordinate and supervise the Industrial Arts Fair which brings hundreds of high school youth to the campus with their projects each spring. A project of the local chapter this year was to locate all alumni members. Members also made a map with the alumni pin-pointed on it. Don Hullman was president; Rex Nelson, sponsor.

Back row, from left: Jerry Galliant, Gerald Befort, Kent Bauer, Ron Huebner, Rex Nelson, Robert Lindquist, Richard Cain. Second row, Ralph Huffman, Dennis McKee, Don Hullman, Gale Pauley, Jerome

Administrators in Western Kansas schools come to the campus to meet with local members of Phi Delta Kappa.

Phi Delta Kappa

Phi Delta Kappa, national professional fraternity for male educators, is dedicated to furthering educational research and developing leadership. Chapters of Phi Delta Kappa are located in universities and colleges which offer degrees in education.

Members are chosen according to professional achievement and potential in the field. Seniors with a B average or better, may be elected to membership; however graduate students, faculty members and educators from the surrounding area comprise the greater part of the organization.

Dr. Ray Youmans was the president; Dr. B. W. Broach is the faculty sponsor.

Delta Epsilon

Delta Epsilon, honorary fraternity for science majors, sponsors the Frontiers Unlimited programs presented during the second semester. The theme of the six lectures and one field trip was "One World" and featured faculty members and other Hays residents speaking on their recent trips abroad.

Senior students, graduate students, faculty and alumni are chosen for membership in Delta Epsilon on the basis of scholarship, scientific interest and ability in the field.

Dr. Howard Reynolds is president of the honorary fraternity.

Women majoring in physical education are eligible for membership in Eta Rho Epsilon.

To aid the majors in establishing professional values, attitudes, knowledge and relations is the aim of the organization.

Members of Eta Rho Epsilon take part in a variety of activities which will help them when they become physical education teachers.

Carol Steckline headed the group; Joan Bailey is the faculty adviser.

Seventh Cavalry

A service club which encourages leadership and aids student projects which are for the good of the school, Seventh Cavalry selects its members from male students who meet the required scholastic standards and have demonstrated leadership ability.

Named after General George Custer's well-known regiment, Seventh Cavalry members on horseback lead the annual homecoming parade.

Members of the group also usher at Artist and Lecture programs, and take charge of compiling and selling student directories each fall.

The Seventh Cavalry popcorn machine at home football and basketball games brings in money each year which the group donates to the National Defense Loan Fund. In the last two years, the members have contributed $1,000 to the program.

Women's Leadership Organization

Women's Leadership Organization recognizes and develops leadership, scholarship, character, and service in upper class women.

Women obtaining at least a 2.0 cumulative grade average are voted upon by faculty members and by WLO members before they are admitted to membership.

To foster the idea of leadership, to encourage women to think in terms of their futures, and to stimulate high scholarship are the aims of Women's Leadership Organization.

WLO members operate a tutoring service for students and give a scholarship to a deserving woman student.

In cooperation with Seventh Cavalry, WLO members helped usher at Artist and Lecture programs. The two groups sponsored a "Smarty Party" for students who made a 2.5 or better for the first semester this year.

Dean Jean Stouffer advises the group; Karen Getty was president.

A "Smarty Party" gave recognition to students averaging 2.5 or better for the fall semester.

Canterbury Association

Committed to a definite program of worship, study, service, giving, evangelism and unity, Canterbury Association serves the Episcopal students on the Fort Hays State campus.

Weekly Wednesday evening meetings feature speakers, programs, group study and social functions. Communion services are held every Wednesday morning for interested students.

The Rev. Howard Trask advises the group; Gregg Trask was the president.

Campus Christian Council

Representatives from each of the college religious groups compose the Campus Christian Council which provides opportunities for residence halls and organized housing groups to discuss aspects of the Christian religion.

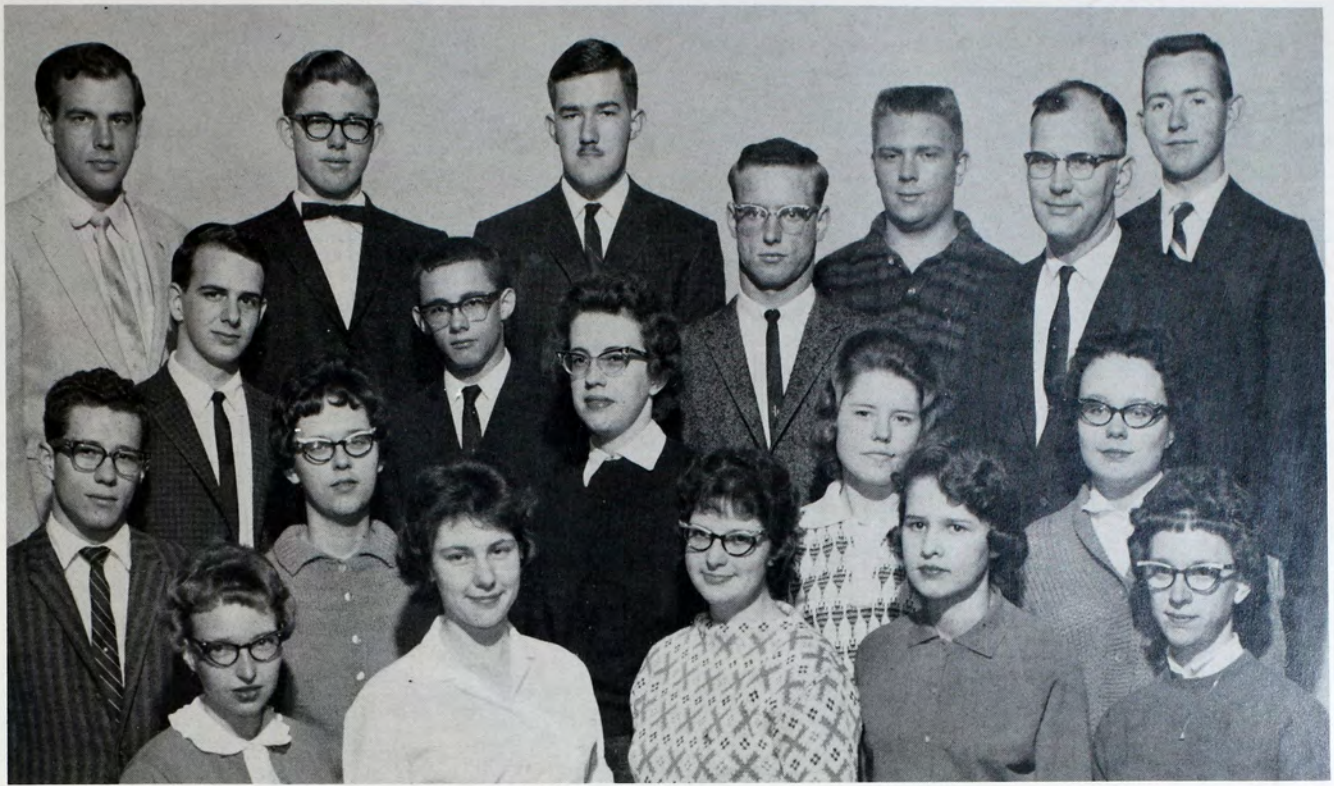

Panel discussions led by local ministers, programs on other world religions, and a spring retreat to Webster Dam were part of the Campus Christian Council program.

Larry Ehrlich headed the council; the Rev. Norman Simmons is the sponsor.

U. S. C. F.

United Students Christian Fellowship is for students from the Presbyterian, Congregational, Evangelical United Brethren, and Evangelical Reformed churches.

Meeting in Westminster House each Sunday evening, the group hears speakers from the campus, the community, and the surrounding area. Members of U.S.C.F. held a Christmas banquet before the holiday vacation.

Trying to get a full-time campus minister has been the main project for group members this year.

Dr. Dale Dick and Rev. Sam Maier are the sponsors; Dottie Gibbons was president.

Christian Youth Fellowship

Students who belong to the Christian Church are members of the Christian Youth Fellowship.

The group seeks to enrich the social, mental, and spiritual lives of its members and to provide them with Christian fellowship and understanding.

Meetings in the Smoky Hill Room of the Memorial Union feature discussions and parties.

The Rev. Milton Hendrickson is adviser; Robert Hiebert, president.

Gamma Delta

Gamma Delta, international organization for Lutheran college students, is affiliated in Hays with the Messiah Lutheran Church.

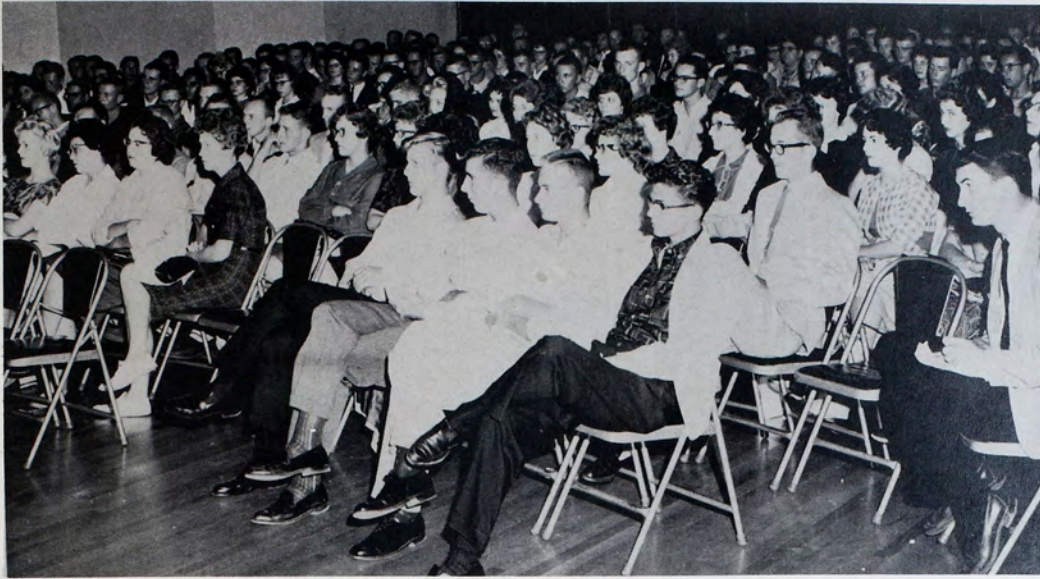

The goals of Alpha Xi, the local chapter, are to give members a knowledge of Christianity and to interest them in Christian service.

Films, topic discussions, guest speakers and joint meetings with Lutheran Students Association are some of the programs for Gamma Delta meetings. Social events are also an important phase of the group's program.

Clayton Goehring was president; Dr. John Garwood, of the faculty, and the Rev. Victor Polley are the advisers.

Planning and co-ordinating the program of Gamma Delta utilizes the ideas and work of the executive council.

Catholic students—350 strong—belonged to Newman Club.

Newman Club

More than 350 Catholic students took part in the varied program of the Newman Club this year.

The club strives to further the Catholic student's religious education along with his general education.

Wednesday night meetings in the Union Gold Room featured speakers on subjects of special concern to Catholic students, their religion and personal responsibilities while in college. Bishop F. W. Freking of the Salina diocese was a visitor at a fall meeting of the group.

Climaxing a number of informal parties was the spring formal at which Mr. and Miss Newmanite were crowned.

Father John Terbovich sponsors Newman Club; Marvin Martin was president this year.

Publicizing the many Newman Club activities takes an energetic and imaginative publicity committee.

Bishop Frederick Freking of the Salina diocese visits informally with students after addressing the club at an early fall meeting.

Kappa Phi

The purpose of Kappa Phi, the Methodist women's organization, is to mold the college student of today into the church leader of tomorrow.

The local chapter of Kappa Phi planned and presented many programs at the Hadley Rehabilitation Center this year, utilizing talent from Kappa Phi and Wesley Foundation.

Other activities included study groups, a Yulelog service at Christmas, a picnic with alumni, and a dinner for graduating seniors.

Coline Duer was president; Mrs. Norman Simmons and Lucille Bott, advisers.

LSA

To make the Christian faith a dynamic and vital part of the students' total college life is the aim of the Lutheran Student Association.

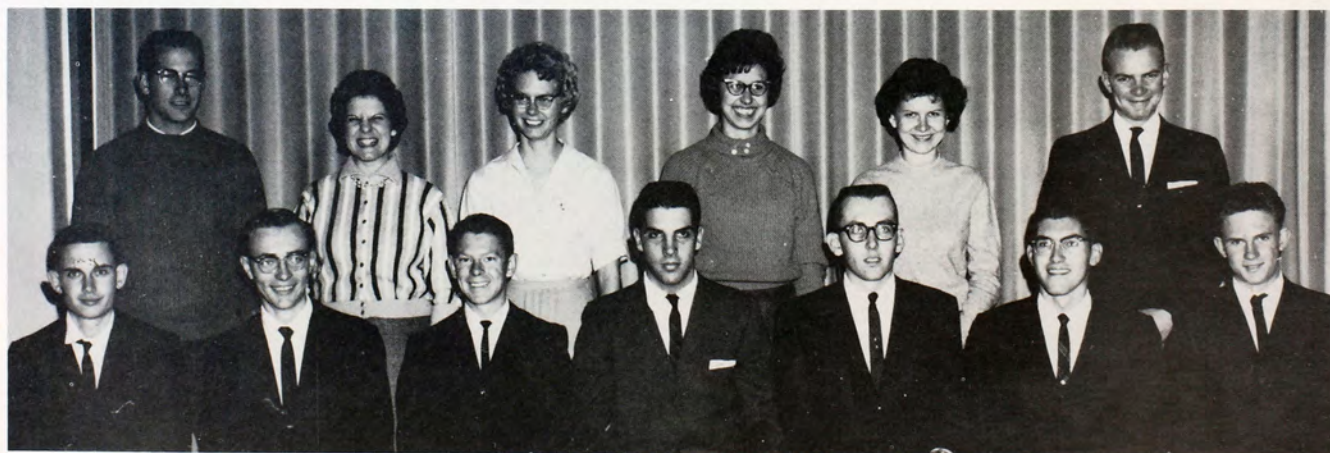

LSA had a caroling party at the Ellis Rest Home before Christmas and attended the midwinter conference at Lawrence in February.

Fall and spring picnics, discussions on the Bible, talks by foreign students on their native countries, faculty members speaking on their recent trips abroad, and field trips to other churches in the area provided some of the programs for LSA meetings.

Larry Ehrlich headed the group; Rev. Harry Hull is the adviser.

Back row: Leonard Brown, Karen Galliard, Judy Brown, Judy Rindt, Elfie Jeike, Dennis Johnson. Front row: John Ruff, Dwight Rumpel, Jerry Patterson, Mike Murphy, Robert Hagerman, Larry Ehrlich, Andrew Anderson.

Wesley Foundation

The only church-related student center near the campus, Wesley Foundation, is enjoyed by both Methodist and non-Methodist students.

Open almost 24 hours a day, the foundation offers a place to study, watch TV, relax and talk, or find religious inspiration.

Sunday evening meetings include student-prepared suppers, worship services, and speakers.

Study groups, business meetings, Wednesday evening vespers and social events take place throughout the week.

The group sent representatives to the Seventh Quadrennial Meeting of the Methodist Student Movement last summer in Champaign, Ill. Members also attended meetings of the state organization.

Fall and spring retreats helped students find spiritual renewal. Two work days provided money for service projects.

Rev. Norman Simmons is the foundation director; Bob Mapel and Don Laffoon were the first and second semester presidents respectively.

Upper left: Students take time out from studying for meditation and communion. Upper right: Wesley Foundation business is handled by the General Council. Center: Study groups gave interested students a chance to learn more about their church and to discuss their beliefs with fellow-students. Lower: Vicki Demmitt, Karen Bebb, and Don Laffoon find that cooking for the hungry group at Wesley calls for plenty of planning, time and food.

Ambassadors

Student ambassadors are an important part of the Fort Hays State public relations program.

One student is chosen from each of the 250 Kansas communities represented on the campus to act as an ambassador to interested students from their home towns.

Ambassadors hold parties, talk to youth groups, talk at high schools, and invite prospective students to visit the campus.

Student ambassadors go with faculty to high schools for career days and assist with Career Day on the campus in mid-April.

Hugh Burnett directs the work of the student ambassadors.

Campus Boosters

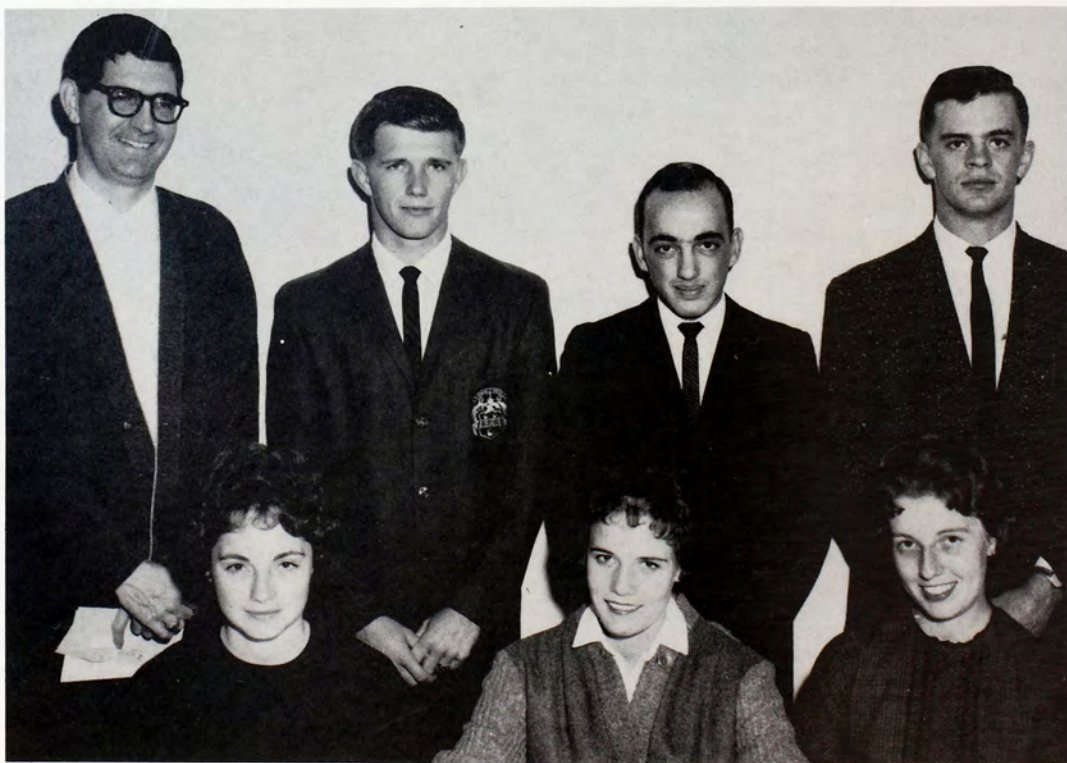

Campus Boosters Council, composed of representatives of campus organizations, is in charge of encouraging pep and school spirit at Fort Hays athletic events.

The group organized a pep rally before the first football and first basketball games. They also sponsored a rally dance during football season and held a noise rally to open basketball season.

To celebrate Fort Hays State's conference championship, the Campus Boosters entertained students at a conference victory dance after the Fort Hays State-Washburn game.

Tom Smith was chairman of the council; Burnie Horton is the group's adviser.

There's no place like home and whether dormitory, house or apartment, once the first adjustment is made, college housing fulfills more than essentials of food and shelter. The student feels a surge of pride and self-confidence in meeting new friends on his own and learning to budget his time and money away from home.

You, the student, have come attune to dormitory sights and sounds . . . the chatter of friends, the rattle of dinner trays, the click of the pop machine, the blinking light at closing hours, and the final quiet of sleep at night.

Memories of college housing, both humorous incidents and friends met, will leave a lasting niche in the total structure of your college days.

HOUSING

Well it's supposed to be a "tacky" party.

Oh! There's the little black book routine,
a part of dorm life.

Study time calls for concentration.

A little TV viewing is on the Saturday afternoon agenda.

Profits from the soft drink machine supply funds for scholarships given by the dormitory.

There's time for serious, solitary study, too, which is, after all, of primary importance.

Agnew Hall

Making new friends, studying, and enjoying recreational fellowship are all part of dorm life in which the women in Agnew participate. A "tacky" party, and African dinner, were among the highlights of the year.

The annual party for faculty children held at Christmas time provided fun for all. A year-long activity program kept every one busy in one way or another.

One of the first routines a dorm girl learns is signing in and signing out.

Custer Hall

Squeezed into the oldest and largest of the residence halls were 228 women, but that only added to the fun. Activities included a Hawaiian Luau, an old-fashioned New England Christmas dinner, a formal, and an informal dance. The dorm windows were beautifully decorated for Christmas, carrying on a tradition enjoyed by college and townspeople alike.

In the first year of operation, Wiest Hall residents were kept busy with activities. The men entertained with an open house, and throughout the year, participated in hour dances, informals, and other social functions.

Though Wiest is the newest dorm on the campus, its residents know how to pick winners, sponsoring girls selected Homecoming and Reveille attendants.

The new stereo in Wiest represents a united effort on the part of all residents and will provide pleasure for the years ahead.

Wooster Place

Housing

The Edwin Margheims enjoy living in Wooster Place. These 48 apartments, which were made available in the spring of 1961, are the beginning of a housing program designed to replace the temporary Lewis Field housing.

Lewis Field

Although intended as a temporary housing arrangement, Lewis Field, with its 100 apartments, offers residence to married and single students, and faculty members. Typical of the married families living in Lewis Field are the Harold Singletons, who act as counselors for the 25 selected upperclass women who live in designated apartments as an annex to the dormitories. When this housing area is replaced by new housing units, the site will probably become a parking area for Lewis Field Stadium.

Greeks traditionally form an immediate association with colleges and universities and fulfill a certain need of brotherhood. These organizations seek to build within their members aspiration to and attainment of social ease, scholastic betterment and religious attitudes.

Though select societies in membership, the chapters endeavor to make themselves known by active involvement in school activities and government. They perform a necessary role in the building of well-rounded student life.

Greeks and their corresponding emblems are familiar to you as a part of Fort Hays State, the home of ten national social Greek affiliations.

Panhellenic Council

Sorority girls explain Rush Week rules to prospective rushees at the Greek Peek party.

Panhellenic Council is the governing body of all four N.P.C. social sororities on campus: Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma, and is composed of an official delegate and a rush chairman from each organization.

The council establishes rules relating to rush week, pledging and initiation, and I.F.C. determines rules for Greek Sing, chariot races and other Greek Week activities.

The council supports high scholastic achievements and offers two scholarship awards to the pledge class and active groups with the highest grade point average over a 1.7 each semester.

Through Panhellenic Council, rushees are given information about sororities at the Greek Peek Party held just before Rush Week. The council also participates in Orientation Week activities, scholarship teas, a coffee for high school seniors, campus clean-ups, Greek Sing and other Greek Week events.

Interfraternity Council

Interfraternity Council is the representative body of all the national fraternities on campus: Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Sigma Kappa, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Together with Panhellenic Council they plan rules and regulations for Greek Week and other fraternity functions.

This year John Sullivan and Dean Bill Jellison, IFC sponsor, attended the National IFC Convention in Boston, Mass., in December.

The council presents trophies each semester to the pledge class and active chapter with the highest grade averages. Phi Sigma Epsilon won both trophies for the spring semester, 1961, but lost the active trophy to Tau Kappa Epsilon and the pledge trophy to Sigma Phi Epsilon for the fall semester, 1961.

IFC and Panhellenic Council sponsored the all-pledge dance.

Rush Week Is Frantic, but Fun

Rush Week began with the preliminary Greek Peek party. All women interested in pledging were invited to attend and become acquainted with the four NPC sororities and learn of the procedures to follow during Rush Week.

Sunday opened formal rush with rushees attending teas at each sorority house. A series of parties were held the following week, with sororities entertaining rushees at three functions. The last two parties of each sorority were developed around themes, with the decorations ranging from rocketships and dragons, clowns and toyland.

At the conclusion of the series of parties, the rushees signed preference cards Sunday morning and received their bids in the afternoon. In the final flourish of tears and laughter, rushees donned pledge pins and affiliated with the sorority of their choice.

Alpha Gamma Delta

In the fall of 1961, the first floor of the chapter house was redecorated. The dining room, living room, library, kitchen, and housemother's room were papered and repainted. New draperies were purchased and some new furniture was added.

Highlights of the year include the "Flintstone Rock Hop" informal, winning the scholarship trophy, the Rose Formal, and Greek Week.

An altruistic project conducted on an international scale is assisting the cerebral palsied and physically handicapped through chapter projects. On a local level, members devote two hours a week to reading to patients in the Hadley Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Dorothy Ballard is housemother and Mrs. Vernon Meckel, sponsor. Officers include: Mary Ann Lofstead, president; Pat Stehno, vice president; Linda Heide, recording secretary; Margaret Beller, treasurer.

Delta Zeta

"Mardi Gras" and "My Fair Lady" were the two Delta Zeta theme rush parties. Other features of the year included the Christmas and spring formals and two informals.

The sorority helps to support Gallaudet College for the deaf and Hansen's disease victims at Carville Hospital in Louisiana. As a local project, the chapter buys Christmas gifts and toys for rehabilitation patients at Hadley Memorial Hospital.

Their housemother is Mrs. Nina Stroup and their sponsor, Mrs. Elizabeth Mosier. Officers include: Beth Fellers, president; Patti Percival, vice president; Joyce Philip, 2nd vice president; Sharon Kiel, treasurer.

Sigma Kappa

"Beatnik Express" was the theme for the Sigma Kappa December informal planned by the pledges. Other highlights of the year include the Valentine Pledge Tea, the Follies, Greek Week, and the spring formal.

The two-story white frame house was completely remodeled this fall and all new furniture was purchased.

The national philanthropy of Sigma Kappa is giving aid to the Maine Sea Coast Mission and to the American Farm School in Greece. As a local project, the chapter entertains members of the Golden Years Club.

Officers include: Ruth Ann Spencer, president; Betty June Scroll, vice president; Carolyn Mothershead, secretary; Martha Springfeldt, treasurer. Mrs. Elsie Veatch is the house-mother and Mrs. Bob Spangler, their sponsor.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Sigma Sigma Sigmas' annual fall informal was centered around "South Sea Paradise." A chili supper on Parents' Day, the Follies and the Deep Purple formal were a few of the many activities. Highlighting Homecoming was their winning first in the women's division on the float "Cruising to Victory."

Each year the Tri Sigmas sponsor a shoe shine to help finance their national philanthropy project known as Robbie Page Memorial. This is to provide for a new children's wing at the North Carolina Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill.

During the Christmas season the sorority gave a party for underprivileged local children.

Miss Alice Beesley is the sponsor and Mrs. Agnes Townley, housemother. Officers include: Gloria Greenwood, president; Sharron Northrup, vice president; Rosemary Mustoe, secretary; Linda Darnell, treasurer.

Smokers and Pledge Duties

Each fraternity gives a smoker at the beginning of the semester to become acquainted with rushees. The story of fraternities and their role in college life is related, sorority members provide a program and guests take a tour of the fraternity house.

Following pledging, a period of training, supervised study and a variety of pledge duties provide the fledgling frat man fellowship and fun as well as brotherly concern for academic progress.

Help Week precedes initiation and may include a bit of the ridiculous as well as constructive efforts toward campus and community betterment.

Delta Sigma Phi

The "Sailors' Ball" of Delta Sigma Phi is one of the unique social events of the year. It's a custom for the Delta Sigs to grow beards for this informal. Costumes and entertainment leave little to be desired. The spring formal is the Carnation Ball.

Most of the rooms in the frat house were repainted by Delta Sigs who returned to school early in the fall. Part of the jungle of shrubs and trees was removed from the back yard.

Mrs. Avis Thomas is housemother, and Dr. Floyd Kinsinger, sponsor. Officers are: Darrell Miller, president; Rodney Barrows, vice president; Clinton Pearce, treasurer; Vernon Minnis, secretary.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

Kappa Sigma Kappa won first place in Greek intramural football and swimming, and first place in the men's division for their Homecoming float "Spinning to Victory." They also won first in the Noise Rally contest at the beginning of basketball season. The main social function of the year is their formal, the Kappa Sig Spring Splash.

Many of the rooms in the Kappa Sig house have been repainted, but the greatest change is in the basement. It has been completely redecorated and all of the dining tables have been refinished.

Miss Eva Strecker is the housemother; Dr. Robert Marple and John Tomlinson are sponsors. Heading the Kappa Sigs through the year has been Dennis Baumann, president; Gary Gottschalk, vice president; Jerry Hauck, treasurer; Ronald Quillin, recording secretary.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

The local chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon had the second highest grade average of all Phi Sig chapters in the United States. During second semester enrollment, Phi Sigs distributed desk blotters to Fort Hays State students. The fall semester includes their informal and their homecoming party.

Most of the rooms in the Phi Sig house have acquired a new look achieved with paint, paintbrush, and personality.

Mrs. Alice Maddux is housemother, and Dr. Darrell Stump and Ivan Watkins are sponsors of Phi Sigma Epsilon. President is Carl Lomax; Glenn Cunningham, vice president; Dick Werth, secretary; Larry Bortz, treasurer.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

"Blue Mountain Blast" is the title of Sigma Phi Epsilon's annual fall informal and the "Golden Heart Ball" is the main social function in the spring. The fraternity ranks second in size nationally with 155 chapters.

The Sig Eps spent many long hot hours last summer painting the entire outside of their house. The interior of the house has also changed with the addition of new closets, cupboards and furniture.

Known to the Sig Eps as "Mother E." is Mrs. Esther Eslinger, housemother. Dr. James Belisle is sponsor. The Sig Eps, easily distinguished on campus by their red blazers, have Larry Dietz as president; Dave Welch, vice president; Larry Whalen, secretary; Gerald Strecker, treasurer.

Sigma Tau Gamma

The float "Coach and Team" won the 1961 sweepstakes trophy for Sigma Tau Gamma to spearhead an important year for the fraternity. Each member and his date became a "Beatnik in Paradise" for the fall informal and the most authentic beatnik received a prize for his costume.

Keeping pace with other Greeks on campus, the Sig Taus decorated, painted and refurbished their house, devoting both labor and cash to the project.

A more important national program, with local significance, was the status survey of fraternities conducted by the national organization, adapted to each campus.

Housemother for Sigma Tau Gamma is Mrs. H. J. Seeman. Sponsors are J. B. Walden and John Westley. Joe Nold is president; Dennis Campbell, vice president; John Fyfe, treasurer; and George Lee, house manager.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Winning first in intramural golf and tying for first in touch football ended the fall season of sports for the TKEs. To conclude the day of Homecoming activities, a dance was held for the members and the alumni. A buffet dinner was given for parents on Parents' Day.

The annual Pajama Party was the first informal of the season planned by the pledges. The Red Carnation Ball ended the year's activities.

Sponsor of Tau Kappa Epsilon is Dr. Howard Reynolds and housemother is Mrs. Norma Sunderland. Officers are: Richard Packard, president; Robert Pavlicek, vice president; Roger Hinz, secretary; Jim Dodrill, treasurer.

Just as a magazine has cover girls so must the Reveille display the campus beauties. This realm or brief monarchy allows its queen to reign but one night, a special occasion made a bit more grand by royal tradition. Students attending Homecoming, the Reveille Ball, and the Sweetheart Ball become the subjects of each reigning queen.

Whether the queen and her court be chosen by student vote or outside selection, she is qualified by personality, student associations and charm. Each has typified to her sponsoring group an impression of the all-around American college girl.

Recognition of royalty is built on tradition and Fort Hays State honors the 1962 Royal Court.

ROYALTY

Sandy Holmes, homecoming queen, waves at parade viewers.

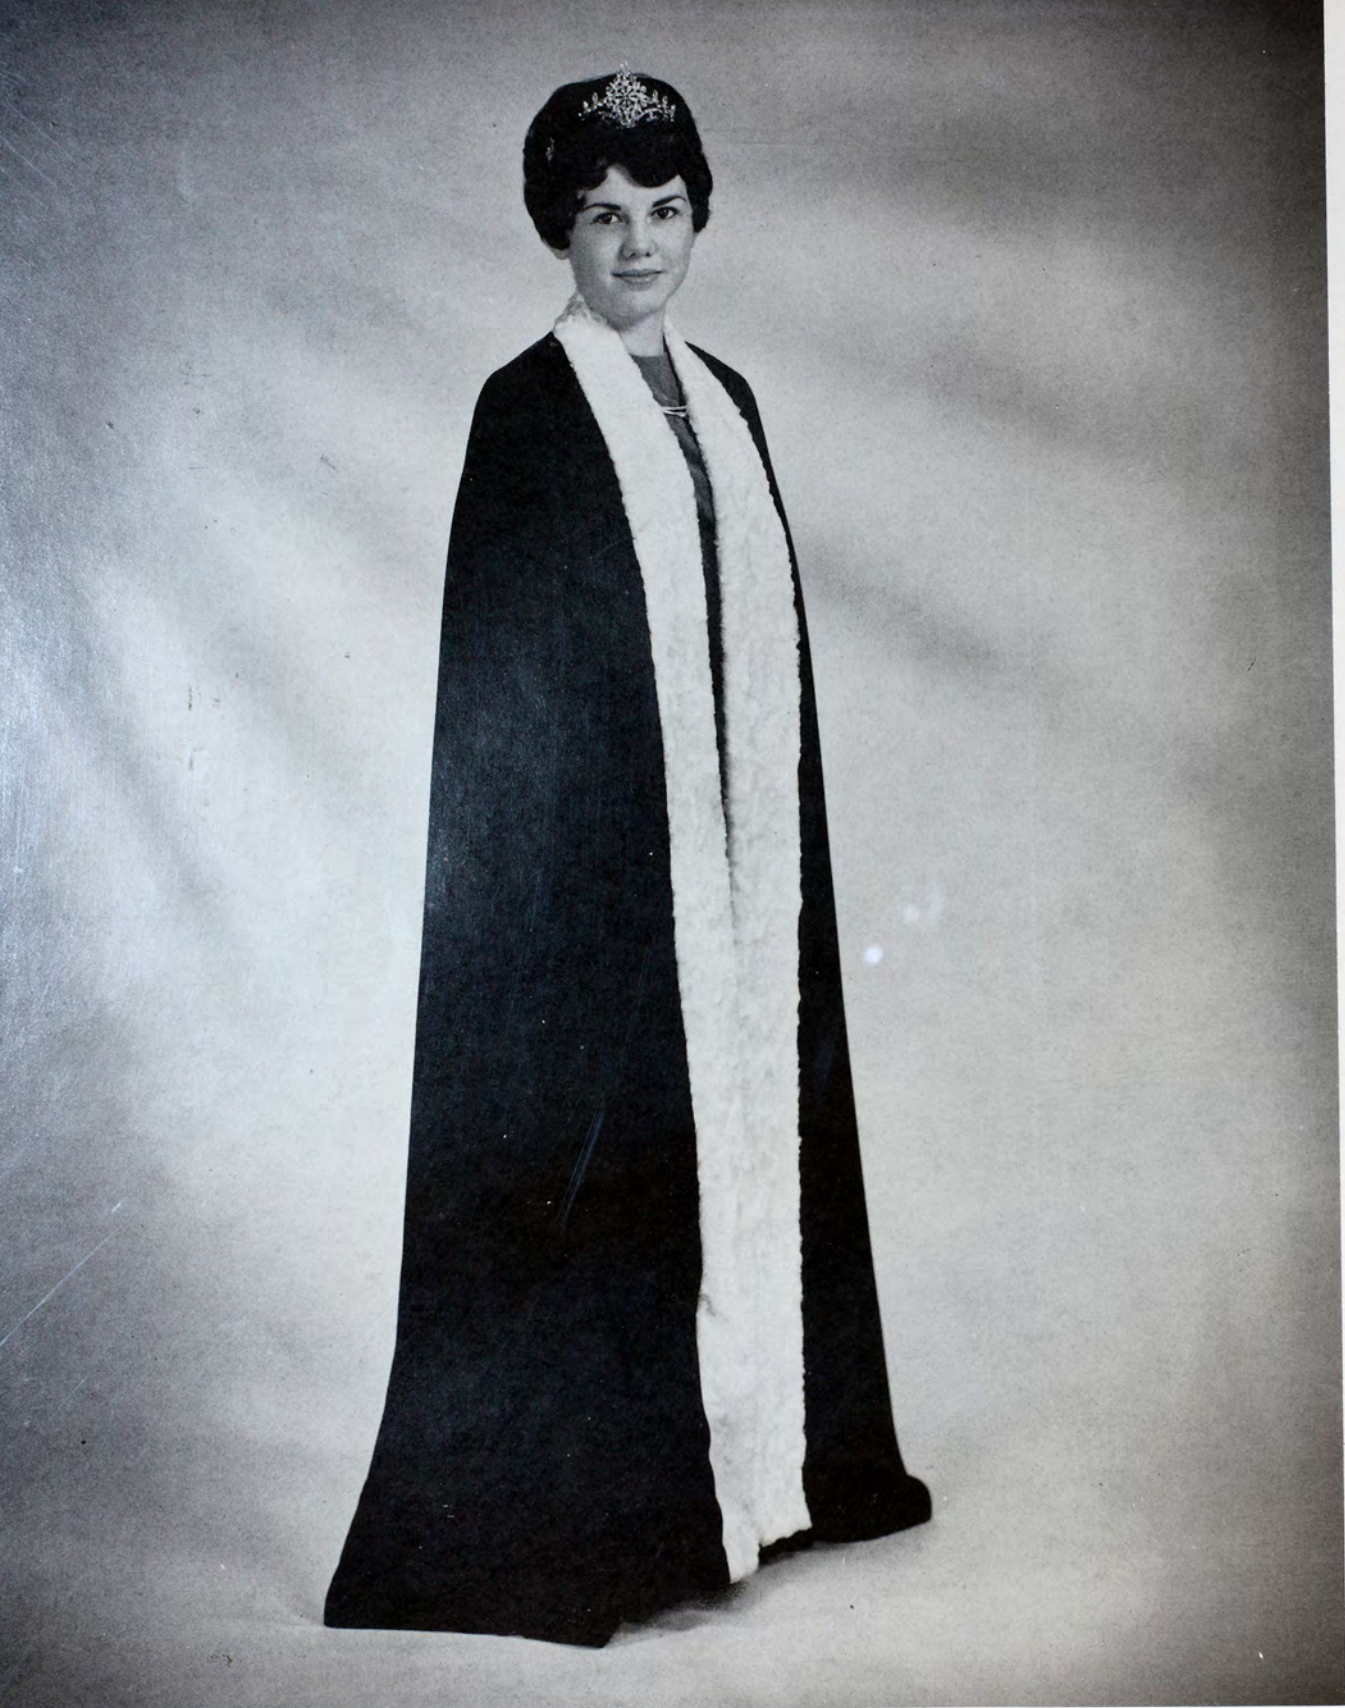

The coveted queen's crown atop the robe awaits each campus queen.

To those honored, trophy awards are permanent reminders of very special events.

Como Selects Queen

Perry Como, well-known television and recording star, chose Sandy Barnett, representing Kappa Sigma Kappa, as queen of the 1962 Reveille. Rounding out the Royal Court were Jan Schmidt, Residence Hall candidate, and Bonnie Guttridge, Wiest Hall candidate. The royal three reigned over the Reveille Ball held December 2.

Como judged the coeds from two portraits of each of the fourteen candidates.

Dr. W. D. Moreland, dedicatee of the 1962 Reveille, crowned the Queen and attendants, awarded trophies, and presented the Queen with a bouquet of roses while Bill Ohlemeier served as Master of Ceremonies.

With the roar of the crowd, the boom of a kicked ball, football season initiated fall athletics. With an echo of the cheering crowd still ringing from the stadium, attention pivoted to basketball.

Eight competitive sports come into the focus of student spectators and contestants during the year. The athletic program is the central and unifying factor in school spirit, holding FHS together through wins and losses. On the playing field or in the stands, students establish their identification with the college.

With each seasonal sport, students follow a progression of sports activities building new records and aiming for higher achievements.

Tigers Record Best Football Season Since 1958

The 1961 Tigers came through with their best season since 1958 as they posted a 4-4-1 record. Although the record just shows an even slate, the Bengals were only out-classed by two teams, Omaha University and Pittsburg State, the No. 1 small college team in the nation.

Quarterback Dave Parker, halfback Wayne Schumacher, and tackle Jim Baird placed on the All-Conference second team while Parker missed first team by only one vote.

The FHS Bengals compiled their best season in conference play since 1957 as they finished in third place with three wins and two losses. In non-conference play they assembled a 1-2-1 mark.

With only three lettermen lost by graduation, Mike Engel, Don Schrock, and Wayne Schumacher, Coach Wayne McConnell should be assured of a strong nucleus for next year's team.

On February 6, FHS forfeited five games because the team unknowingly used an ineligible player, Merle Dupont, who failed to declare six weeks attendance and participation in two games at another school in the fall of 1960.

Emporia tries valiantly to block extra point attempt.

FHS — 24 Kearney — 0

Fort Hays State started the season off on the right note as the Tigers downed the Antelopes of Kearney State 24-0.

After fighting a nip and tuck battle on the opening quarter, the Tigers broke loose for three touchdowns in seven minutes of the second period. Fullback Jerry Brown scored the first touchdown as he went over from the one, climaxing a 70-yard drive. Don Schrock scored the next counter on a pass from Dave Parker. Another pass by Parker to Wayne Schumacher accounted for the third TD.

The fourth score came in the last period as Parker climaxed a 46-yard march on a three-yard plunge.

All-Conference end Cliff Leiker was injured on the fifth play of the game and was unable to play the rest of the season.

DAVE PARKER, QB

STEVE WORLEY, FB

FHS — 16 Maryville — 17

Fort Hays suffered its first loss of the season to Northwest Missouri State by a close score of 17-16.

The Tigers outrushed and outpassed the opposition until they ran up against the Maryville single-wing formation in the second quarter, when the Bearcats scored all 17 of their points to 10 for the Tigers.

The final Tiger score came on a 22-yard run by quarterback Dave Parker in the third frame. A mix-up of signals on the conversion attempt cost the Bengals the extra point and the game.

WAYNE SCHUMACHER, HB

JIM LEE, HB

JIM SANDERSON, G

LARRY DREILING, G.

Colorado College — 14 FHS — 6

The second quarter jinx hurt the Tigers as Colorado hit paydirt twice in this quarter to win 14-6. Colorado College accounted for seventy-five percent of its total offense in this quarter.

Four intercepted passes and numerous penalties hurt the Tigers. A TD pass was nullified by an off-side penalty.

An intercepted pass set up CC's first score. Colorado scored again 45 seconds before the half. Two quick passes moved the ball deep into Tiger territory for CC's final plunge.

A fired-up FHS squad halted the CC team in the second half and freshman fullback Steve Worley climaxed a 74-yard drive with the only FHS tally.

GERALD STRECKER, C

ENMU — 19 FHS — 19

Sparked by quarterback Dave Parker, who scored all three touchdowns, FHS pulled out a tie with ENMU.

ENMU opened the scoring with a touchdown in the first 13 seconds of the game with an 85-yard kick-off return.

Parker climaxed a 31-yard drive with a three-yard end run to tie the score. ENMU scored once more in the first quarter from their own 42-yard line.

The FHS team received the second half kick-off and marched 71-yards to tie the score with Parker again on a two-yard keeper play. Schrock converted to put the Tigers ahead 13-12.

Parker, on a 21-yard run, gave the Tigers the lead in the final quarter until ENMU's quarterback connected with a 50-yard pass and the extra point was made to tie the score.

Parker skirts end for a 17-yard gain against Emporia.

DON SCHROCK, E

MIKE ENGEL, QB

FHS — 0 Omaha — 26

Omaha University met Fort Hays State in opening play of the Central Intercollegiate Conference for both clubs. OU came away with a 26-0 victory over the Tigers.

The combination of speedy halfback Roger Sayers and the passing of Carl Meyers proved to be too much for the Tigers. Sayers scored touchdowns of 80 and 3 yards. Meyers, connecting on numerous pass plays, set up the third touchdown in the third quarter.

The OU defense held the Tigers' offensive punch as the Bengals couldn't get a drive underway.

The contest pitted the league's top two rushers in Omaha's Sayers and FHS's Parker. Although edged by Sayers, Parker maintained his leadership in the full-season statistics.

JERRY BROWN, E

FHS — 7 Pittsburg — 41

Although FHS scored first, the Gorillas of Pittsburg State rebounded to hand the Tigers a 41-7 walloping before a homecoming crowd of 13,000 at Pittsburg.

FHS crossed the Pitt goal line early in the first quarter to crack a five-game shutout held by the number one small college power.

Pitt bounced back in the second quarter to score three touchdowns and the Gorillas led at halftime 21-7.

The Gorillas scored once in the third quarter and twice in the fourth frame to add to their victory.

FHS — 12 Emporia State — 7

With 7,000 homecoming fans looking on, the Tigers dropped the Emporia State Hornets 12-7 for the first win over the Hornets since 1955 and the first homecoming win since 1958.

Tiger quarterback Dave Parker opened the game's scoring on a nine-yard sprint around right end to put the Tigers ahead 6-0 in the first half.

Both teams were stymied in the third period as the homecoming crowd anticipated a victory.

E-State scored in the fourth quarter as the Hornet quarterback passed to end Jim Meyer. The extra point kick was good putting the Hornets ahead 7-6.

Parker, climaxing a 60-yard drive, scored on an end run which covered 17 yards and made the final score 12-7.

LARRY BATES, HB

TIM DANIELS, HB

FHS — 21 St. Benedict's — 14

Coming from behind twice, FHS dropped the visiting St. Benedict's Ravens, 21-14, in the Tigers' first win over the Atchison team since 1955.

Jim Lee picked off a Raven fumble in mid-air and scampered 55 yards to score in the third quarter.

Steve Worley, freshman fullback, went over from the one-yard line with five seconds left in the third quarter.

Halfback Wayne Schumacher topped a 77-yard march with a dive from the one, mid-way in the last quarter, to put the Tigers ahead to stay and send the Ravens to defeat, 21-14.

CLAYTON WILLIAMS, HB

DICK CHASTAIN, T

FHS — 14 Washburn — 7

The Tigers closed their season with a 14-7 victory over Washburn University.

The Tigers scored early in the game after Jim Lee recovered a Washburn fumble on the Ichabods' 26-yard line. Quarterback Dave Parker scored from the three-yard line six plays later and Jim Baird kicked the extra point.

Washburn's touchdown and extra point in the last minute of the second quarter netted a 7-7 tie at halftime.

Another Washburn fumble in the fourth period set up the Tigers' final score. The 52-yard drive was completed when Parker sprinted into the end zone unmolested from the 35-yard line. Don Schrock's placement was good to give FHS a 14-7 victory.

Junior Varsity Wins Two

The Fort Hays State junior varsity, coached by Jim Casper and comprised of all Tiger players except the top two teams, opened their season with a 19-0 win over the Emporia State "B" team. Tim Daniels and Rich LaPlant each scored on one-yard plunges while Kent Huddleston sprinted 82 yards on a punt return for the other score.

The jayvees squeaked past the Kearney State "B" team 7-0 on a muddy Hays field for their second win of the season. George Daniels raced 30 yards for the only score of the game.

In the rematch between Kearney and the jayvees, the Kearney eleven won 33-20, breaking a two-year, five-game winning streak for FHS.

"We're going to Kansas City!" cried almost every Fort Hays State student after the Tigers earned the right to represent Kansas in the NAIA tourney by defeating Ottawa twice in the CIC-Kansas Conference playoffs. Everything seemed to calm down after FHS was defeated 75-69 in the opening round by Lewis and Clark College.

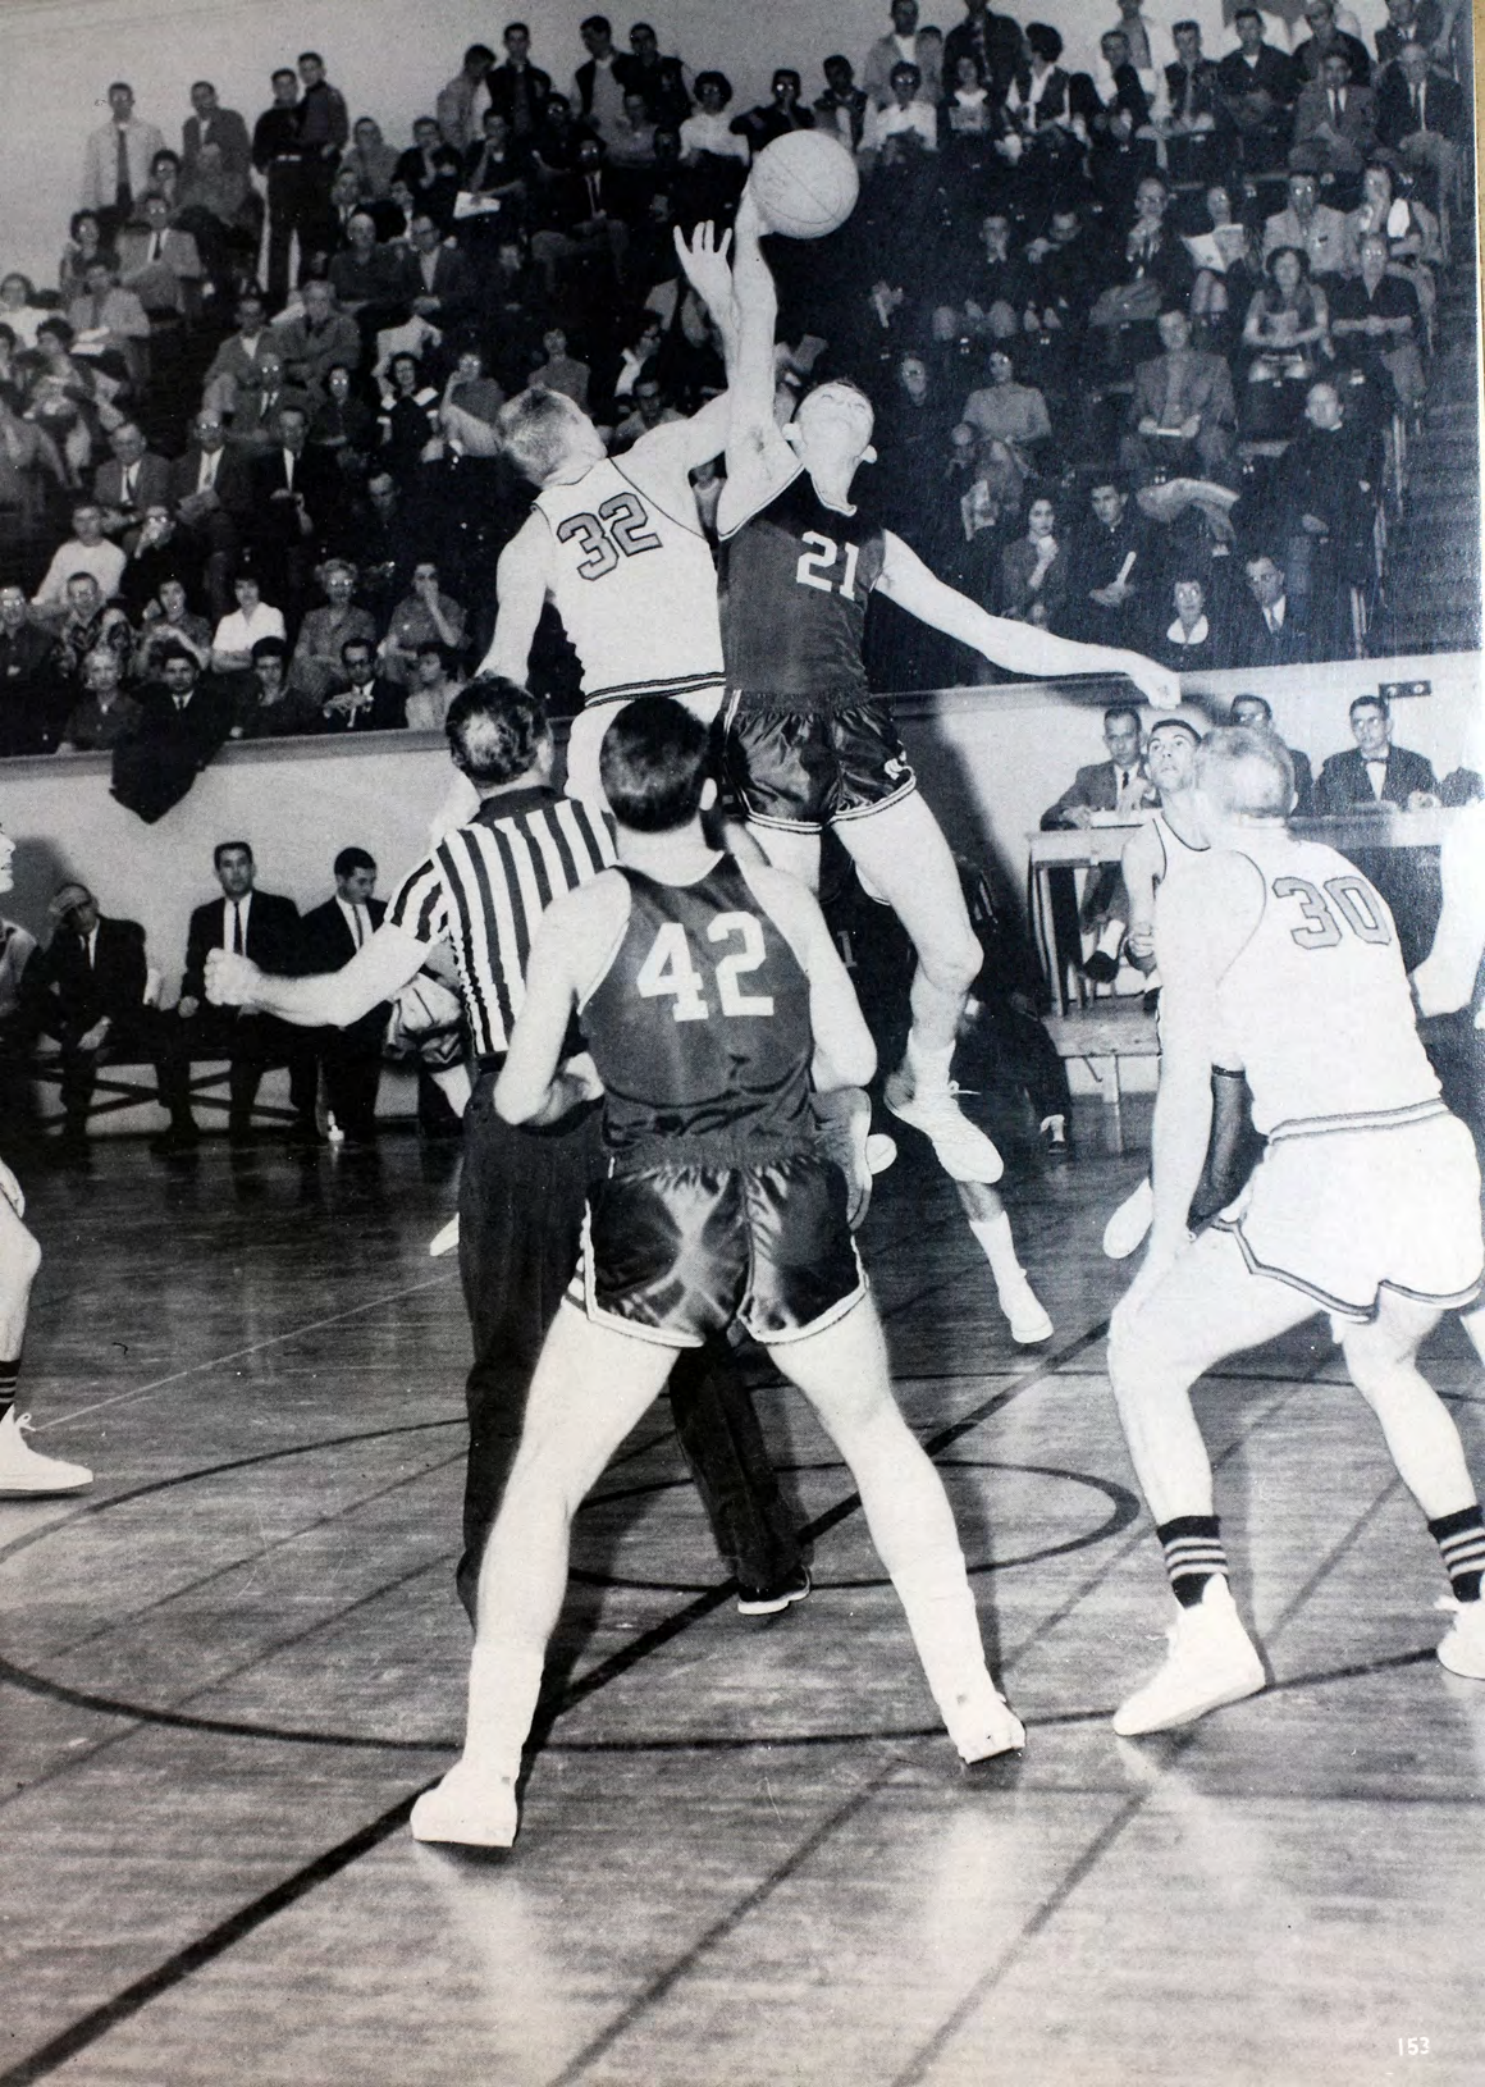

Nevertheless, Coach Cade Suran's 1961-62 basketball team recorded one of the best season records ever compiled at FHS. The Tigers had a won-loss record of 19-4, won the conference title with an 8-2 record, extended their home victory skein to thirteen in a row, and represented Kansas in Kansas City for the NAIA title.

FHS was led by two Hutchinson Junior College transfers, Herb Stange and John Channell. Both broke individual and total school scoring records. Each scored thirty-four points in different games to set and tie for the school record while Channell surpassed Stange in the final game of the season to set the school record for points in all games. Channell scored a total of 424 points with Stange close behind with 419 points.

Coach Suran loses two seniors from this year's team, Dean Larson and Richard Anderson, and will surely field one of the best teams in the conference again next year.

Harriers Win 2nd in N.A.I.A.

Freshmen dominated the 1961 cross-country team taking the place of several upper classmen. Among these were Bob Mohler who placed first once and second on three occasions while setting a new Fort Hays State three-mile record in 15:02 at the triangular meet at Wichita University.

Coach Francis' harriers opened their season by winning the Wichita University Invitational for the second straight year by defeating Emporia State Teachers, Wichita University, and Pittsburg State.

The Tigers then went on to place fourth in the Oklahoma

State Jamboree, third in a triangular meet at Wichita University and won two dual meets with Kearney (Neb.) State; then lost a dual with Emporia State.

Emporia State harriers copped the conference title for the sixth consecutive year while FHS runners won second. The same situation occurred in the N.A.I.A. cross-country championships. The Tigers trailed their fellow Central Intercollegiate conference member by two points, 73-75, in the race at Omaha University. This was the second time in the six-year history of the meet that FHS has taken second place.

Gymnasts Record Best Season

Coach Ed McNeil's gymnasts recorded their best season in Fort Hays State history this year as they won four duals and lost seven. With few small colleges in the Midwest offering gymnastics, FHS competes against some of the best teams in the Skyline and Big Eight Conferences.

The gymnasts won duals over Northwestern Oklahoma State, Colorado State University, and twice over Kansas University while losing matches to Kansas State University, Nebraska University, Denver University, Colorado University, and losing three times to Colorado State University. The All-College Invitational Meet at Boulder, Colorado, ended the season for the Tigers.

Men's Intramurals

With many different forms of intramural sports, the men on Fort Hays State campus have a chance to compete in almost any field from badminton to table tennis.

Competition was high again this year with the championship for the two big ones, football and basketball, being decided by playoffs.

With Alex Francis as director, the intramural program grows each year and more interest is evidenced in all sports.

Women's Intramurals

Women's Intramural events are a major activity in the lives of Fort Hays State women. Approximately 300 students participated in the various activities. Judy Rinker, instructor, was outstanding in her organization of the intramurals. She also helped each girl gain in knowledge and skill of the various activities.

Women's Intramurals also provided physical relaxation for tense and busy students. The most beneficial aspect of the intramurals was that the participants were able to find diversion from mental pressures and in return, became better, well-rounded students.

Wrestlers Compile Second Straight Winning Season

Dale Rath, senior letterman, was one of the Tiger mainstays this season.

Coach Walter Kroll returned seven lettermen from last year's Missouri Valley AAU championship team. The Bengals won five duals, lost three and tied one with the Missouri Valley AAU meet and the NAIA championships left on the schedule.

The Tigers won duals with Kearney (Neb.) State twice, Trinidad (Colo.) Junior College, Graceland College and Adams (Colo.) State. They lost duals to Lamar (Colo.) Junior College, Colorado University, and Kansas State University, and tied a dual meet with Northwest Missouri State.

COACH WALTER KROLL

Netmen Have Building Year

Before the 1962 tennis season started, Coach Richard Burnett stated that although the team lost five lettermen via graduation last spring, "we would be a better balanced team."

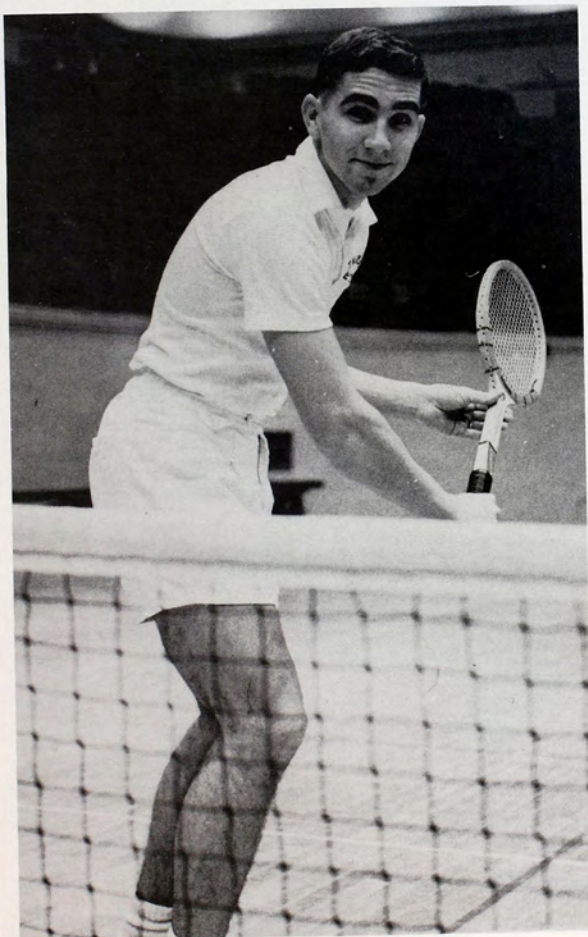

The 1962 squad was led by returning lettermen Ron Walker, Dick McCall, and former junior college star, Tom McKain.

Although the team placed third in the conference meet last year, the best ever, this year's team was sure to improve this mark.

May	11	CIC Meet

Golf prospects for 1962 were Howard White, Joel Moss, Jr., Dennis Close, and R. J. Smiley.

Through you, the students, an image of Fort Hays State has materialized—it is a composition of students in the classroom, at a game, at their studies, in their rooms, out dancing, or at a show.

FHS is a theme encompassing your entire college life; it has become your second home and the results of your future pursuits are influenced by the degree to which you have developed your capacities in your work and in your play.

From the normalities of each day to the special events of each month you, the students, are Fort Hays State.

THIS IS FHS

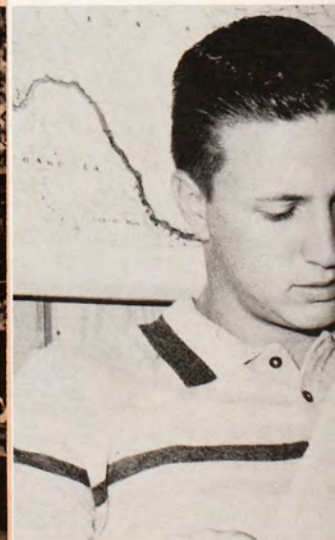

Picken steps are solid backdrop for Don Laffoon in fashion shot for Leader advertisement.

Roger Hinz displays the bronze relief plaque he created for the Tug of War award.

Cheerleaders rode in informal style in the Homecoming Parade.

The home town newspaper is a weekly link between college and home for many students.

Another Year Brings Same Problems

Enrollment and freshman orientation week opened September activities. Though upperclassmen never admit it, enrollment confusion is not exclusively a freshman plight. Advisors are changed, transcripts are reviewed, there's no easy way to speed-up your enrollment. There's waiting, waiting, waiting; writer's cramps are inevitable.

By the time you have filled out the repetitious pages of the enrollment book, you're ready to forget college and all your expectations. Then all at once you're through, ready for the year with all it has to offer.

Louetta Wilken is an attractive model in the Greek Style Show at "For Women Only" meeting of freshmen women.

Confusion abounds in enrollment procedure and new students are bewildered with the assortment of white, pink, and yellow sheets requiring name, phone, age, sex, classification, etc.

Rained-out, student-faculty picnickers find shelter in the Memorial Union.

The fun's just begun! You're only receiving your permit to enroll here, on to the next table you go.

The first day of classes finally arrived.

Oh! Why don't I ever have anything to wear, bemoans Carol Lipp.

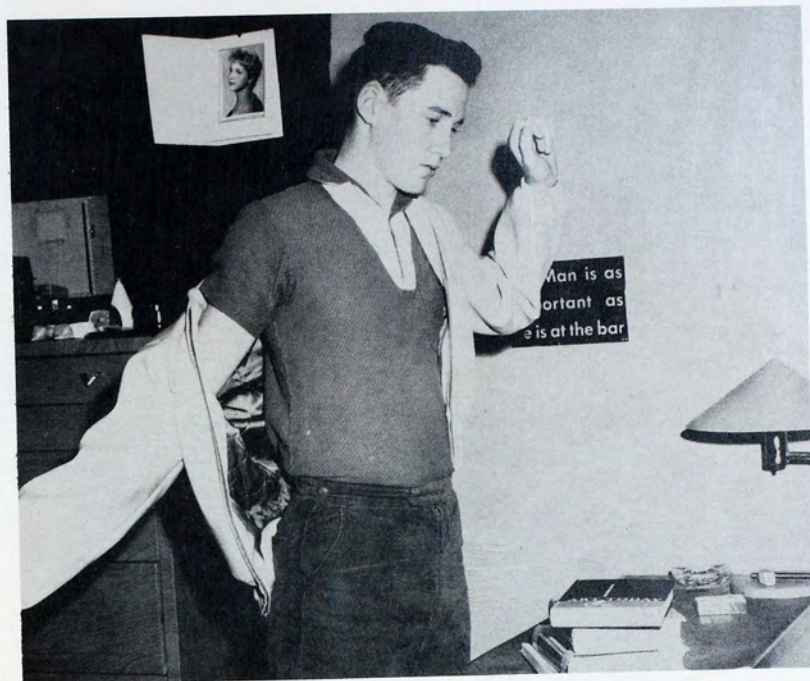

B-b-ring! That noise-infested device, the alarm clock, mercilessly awakes Gary Johnson.

Sharon Bauer and Janice Beckham come inside out of the cold through Custer's doors, as do several hundred coeds every day.

Frosh Adapt Themselves to Dorm Life

Dormitory living is a college experience in itself as freshmen soon discover. Just like home, there's still the problem of what to wear and someone to tell you to get off the phone. But it's not quite the same—Mom's not there to get you up in the morning. And too, it must at first seem like a summer camp to rediscover so many other students each morning while you're still groggy with sleep. But after dorm life, home is never quite the same again.

Gary is still sleepy as he pulls on his jacket to leave for classes.

Songie Henry, like all frosh, learns that sitting on the floor of a dormitory phone booth is the accepted and natural thing.

Kenn Pittman and Saundra Powell, like most couples take time-out from week-night studies for a coffee break.

Jane Schnoebelen smiles coquettishly at Larry Dietz as she selects a record. Suppose it's Friday night?

Studies seem somewhat interrupted during library date. Nadine Lindsey may be laughing at John Fyfe, but to be honest, John's humor is directed at the just-discovered photographer.

Girl Meets Boy— Boy Meets Girl— Romance Is Part of College

College life isn't all contained in the classroom . . . it pours out into the dorms and houses . . . and into the evenings. There is seriousness . . . laughter . . . and moments to remember.

Patti Thiele and Richard Anderson pause between afternoon classes to renew their acquaintance as they haven't seen each other since morning class.

Out to the movies are Joe Schon and Arlene Goetz taking their own survey on whether or not movies are better than ever.

Isaac Stern, violinist, known for his large repertoire and the rich tone of his 250-year-old Guarnerius, performed March 5.

You Are Invited to Attend...

The Artists and Lectures fine art series brings such notables as the Roger Wagner Chorale, Isaac Stern, and the Cleveland Playhouse to the college providing a well balanced variety to give cultural stimulation and entertainment.

A committee of nine faculty members representing all divisions within the college and three students traditionally chosen from the fine arts area arrange all Artists and Lecture numbers for the following school year including the summer session. A program representing the various areas of the performing arts—music, drama, the dance, and the lecture field is selected each year. Usually five or six numbers constitute the winter season and two or three selections are chosen for summer school.

Artists and Lectures Series

FORT HAYS
STATE COLLEGE
HAYS, KANSAS

The 24-voice Roger Wagner Chorale, toured Latin American countries last year and its best-selling recordings range from folk songs to the great classics. Regarded as one of America's finest singing groups, the chorale opened the local series last October.

The San Antonio Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Victor Alessandro, is a professional group enjoying a high reputation in the South and Southwest.

The Cleveland Playhouse, acclaimed for ideas and entertainment, presented "Hedda Gabler," by Ibsen, April 2.

The Weavers, a quartet largely responsible for the increased interest in folk music in recent years, appeared at Fort Hays State as part of Homecoming entertainment.

Scotty Philip, alumni president, presents the Busch Cross Award to Lyle Wingate, 1961 graduate, for outstanding athletic achievement.

Pretty, pert Sandy Holmes, Hanston junior, begins her reign as the 1961 Homecoming Queen. Larry Ehrlich, student body president, accom-

In regal style, the Homecoming Royal Court, is seated on thrones to view the Homecoming Dance.

Sandy Crowned Queen, Sophs Win Tug-of-War

Sandy Holmes, representing Residence Hall, was crowned '61 Homecoming Queen and was attended by Deanna Link, Kappa Sigma Kappa, and Marcelyn Stephenson, Wiest Hall. Sandy was good omen; FHS—12, Emporia—7.

Sophomores gave the freshmen a cold dunking as they pulled them into Big Creek and won the traditional Tug-of-War. Previously, the battle determined whether freshmen could discard their beanies after Homecoming or wait until Thanksgiving. Starting this year an engraved plaque was presented to the winning class and displayed in the Memorial Union.

Freshmen struggle in vain during the Tug-of-War as frosh are dunked and sophomores shout victory.

"Scotty" Philip, alumni president, and Mrs. Shirley Munson, the new alumni vice-president receive congratulations from President Cunningham. The officers were installed at an alumni dinner Friday as part of the Homecoming activities.

panies the Queen after her crowning by President M. C. Cunningham.

Half-time entertainment for the overflow crowd included not only the crowning of the queen, but the parade of winning floats.

"Spinning To Victory" float brought Kappa Sigma Kappa a first place trophy in the men's division.

Sigma Sigma Sigma's white showboat won first place in the women's division.

Folklore of the Prairies Challenges Float Builders

A total of 19 floats, using a theme of Folklore of the Prairies, were created by dormitories, Greeks, and campus organizations to compete for trophies. Led by the FHS football band and Seventh Cavalry, twenty-three high school bands, the 12 Homecoming Queen candidates, and various organizations paraded down Hays streets to entertain a record crowd.

Junior appears to give a serious appraisal of the Homecoming Parade.

"Coach and Team" novelty float won general approval and gained the Chamber of Commerce Sweepstakes Award for Sigma Tau Gamma.

French Classic Staged

Harriet Ketchum, play director, explains a fine point during rehearsal.

Little Theater presented Moliere's two-act classic, "Le Misanthrope," as its annual fall production. The play, set in Paris, reveals the author's own dissatisfaction with life and his unhappy marriage to a young wife. Alceste, the unhappy lover, is a perfectionist; and his inability to tell even the smallest lie creates many embarrassing situations.

John Sullivan, Salina sophomore, played Alceste and Judy Grimm, Jewell sophomore, shared the lead as Celimene. Harriet Ketchum, sponsor of Little Theater, directed the classic with the assistance of Karen Lee Schwein, Atchison sophomore, as student director.

Alceste, John Sullivan, is, in reality a personification of Moliere himself.

Celimene, Judy Grimm, is coquettish as she divides her attentions between Casper, Larry Shertz, and Clitandre, Richard Boss.

Members from "Le Misanthrope" cast were from left, Becky Ragan, Ruth Ann Baker, Richard Hawkins, Judy Grimm, Larry Shertz, Ron Cokeley, John Sullivan, Richard Boss, Donald Richardson, and Glenda Spicer. Marla Folkerts, a former FHS student, danced and Karen Lee Schwein assisted as student director.

Eliante, Becky Ragan, and Philinte, Richard Hawkins, add the spice of the eternal triangle as they exchange sweet words of love.

"But you see, my dear"—says Arsinoe, Glenda Spicer to Celimene, Judy Grimm.

Forsyth Library's sentinels appear to have changed garb as fall disappears with the onrush of winter's first snow.

Dark water and bright snow make a striking picture of Big Creek as it curves through the campus.

Between-class traffic slows as students watch their footing on icy walks.

First Snow Brightens Campus

Winter's first snow lays a mantle on the Fort Hays State campus as white splashes pad the cedars and white paint graces bare tree limbs.

With an apparent declaration of the new season, students' spirits lighten with winter brightness. From the 7:30 class whistle to the dinner meal, the dorm-to-campus-to-dorm traffic finds time to pause and view Big Creek resisting the threat of ice as it mockingly flows between white-laden banks.

Sheridan Coliseum makes a solid backdrop for a frilly pattern of snowy trees along Big Creek.

Snow is a heavy burden on trees between Martin Allen Hall and Picken Hall.

Janet Harrison prepares for teaching primary grades by working with these tots at Lincoln School, Hays, while taking the teaching block.

Pat Stehno checks each second grader's work, while taking her training at Russell.

Future Teachers Receive Training in the Schoolroom

A seven-week practice teaching period in public school systems after completing on-the-campus methods courses involved some 200 FHS seniors this year. Student teachers acquire actual classroom experience under the guidance of master teachers in carrying out the regular schedule of the day.

The student-teacher training program includes schools in eleven area cities: Hays, Dodge City, Ellis, Great Bend, Hoisington, Plainville, Russell, WaKeeney, LaCrosse, Oakley, and Colby. At the conclusion of the directed teaching period, students return to the campus for the last two weeks of the semester to evaluate their training.

Mrs. Martha Mahoney gives individual help to this second grader.

Every student checks his teacher training progress with his supervisor—Dr. Gordon Price, in this case.

Christmas tree trimming is holiday project in homes everywhere and Residence Hall is no exception.

It's Christmas Time On the Campus

With winter, came December and the first all-school formal dance, the Reveille Ball. Sandra Barnett reigned as queen through Perry Como's selection; Bonnie Guttridge and Jan Schmidt attended her. Dr. Moreland, announced as the dedicatee, crowned the queen and Bill Ohlmeier acted as master of ceremonies.

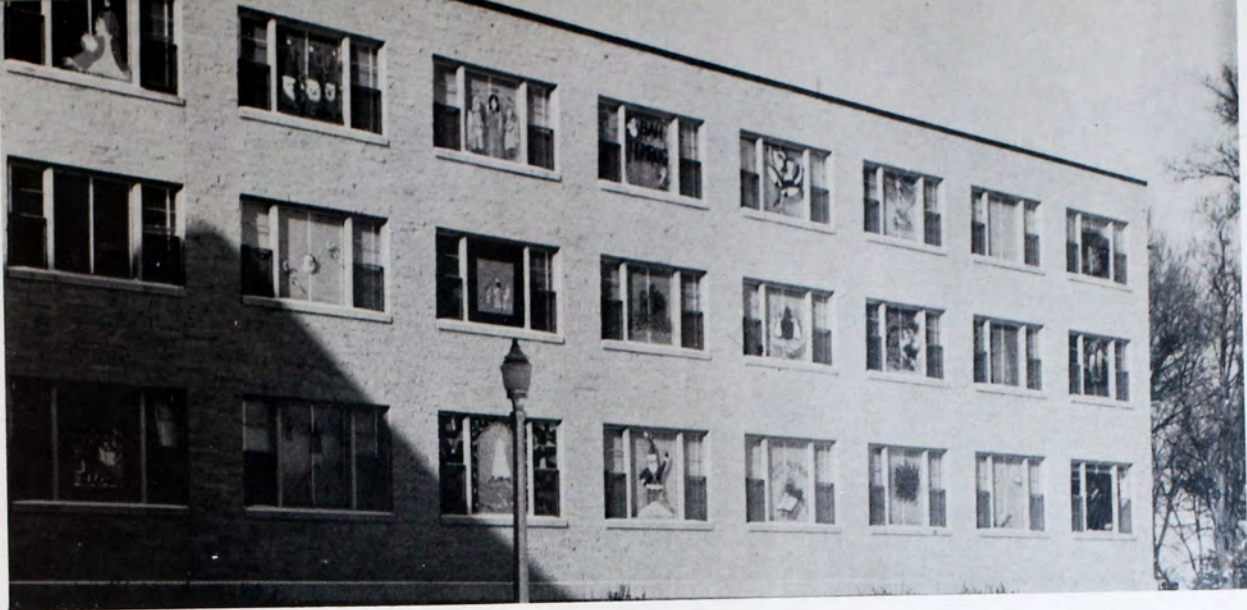

The holiday season made its impact on campus with caroling, Christmas tree decorating, presentation of Christmas cards to the President, and free coffee day in the Memorial Union.

President Cunningham thanks students for the Christmas card tree presented to him by student organizations.

Reveille Ball royalty Bonnie Guttridge, attendant; Sandra Barnett, queen; and Jan Schmidt, attendant; happily display their trophies in front of the cover replica of the 1962 Reveille.

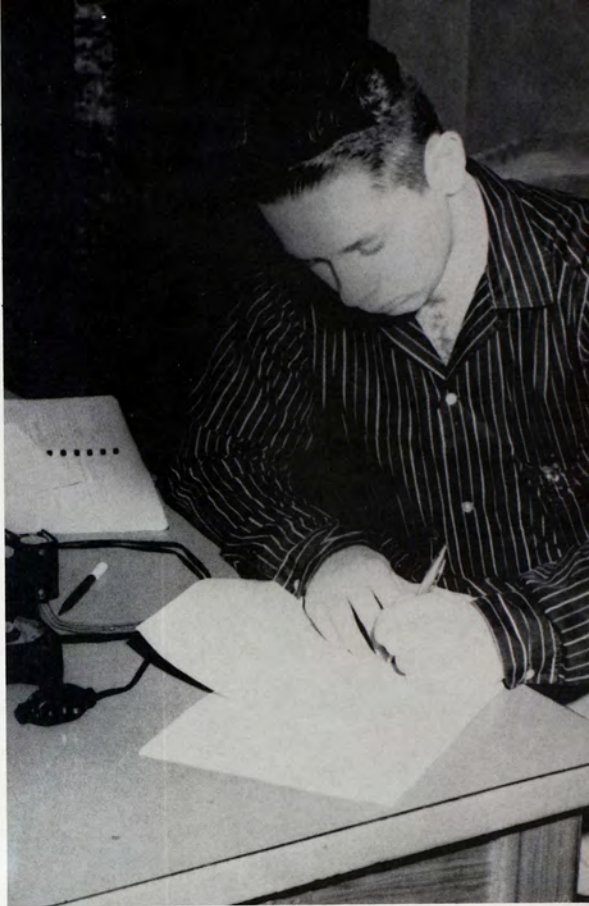

Christmas everywhere—especially in the windows of Custer Hall.

"Silent Night, Holy Night," . . . the Women's Glee Club brings Christmas spirit to the Union.

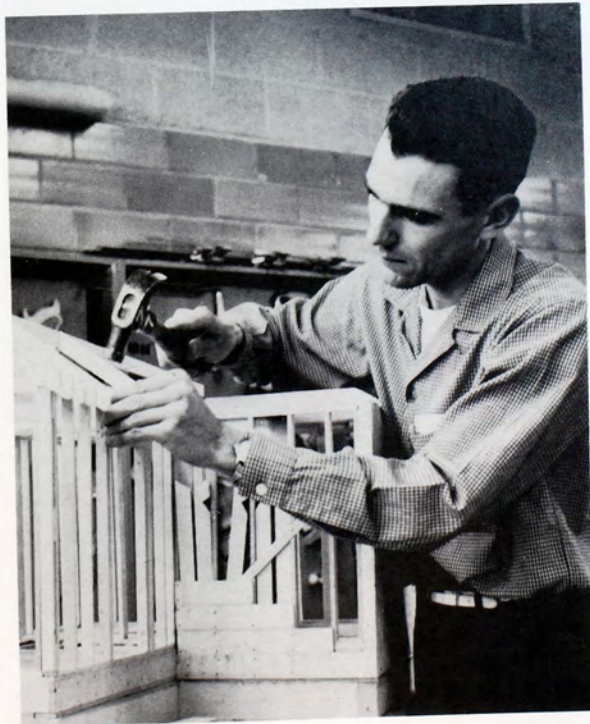

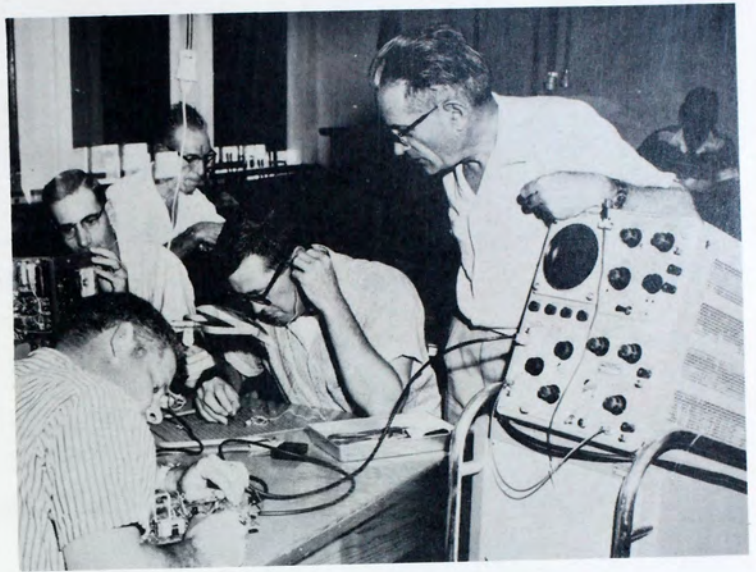

Mary Maude Moore is as adept with a coffee pot as with her director's baton.

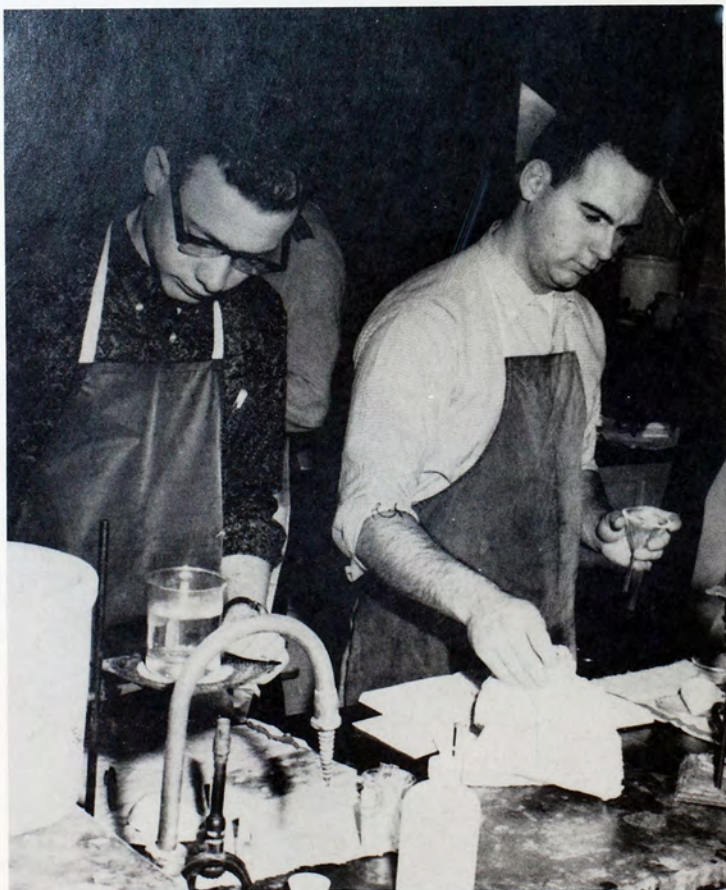

Academic Pursuit Fulfills Student's Quest for Knowledge

College is not all a playful show for many, many hours of the student's day are spent with studies in the classroom, in the laboratory, in the library and at a lighted desk late at night. This is the academic picture for in these silent hours of thought, facts and ideologies are learned, reasoning is applied according to intellectual growth, and future plans are crystalized as goals are set.

Candidates for master's degrees struggle through comprehensive examinations.

Testing . . . always testing.

Careful consideration in course planning makes a good student program.

Student-Teacher Combination Assures Greater Progress

Though individual effort is essential in the learning process, an instructor's supervision and direction opens fertile minds to greater scope while textbooks, research and experiments develop student capacities. With growing confidence and assurance, students probe into their major field of study knowing their tomorrow is more secure by their progress today.

Completion of daily assignments and long-term research problems involve solitary thinking and conscientious study.

Speedy dictation transcribed accurately and neatly is the first ingredient in making good secretaries and stenographers.

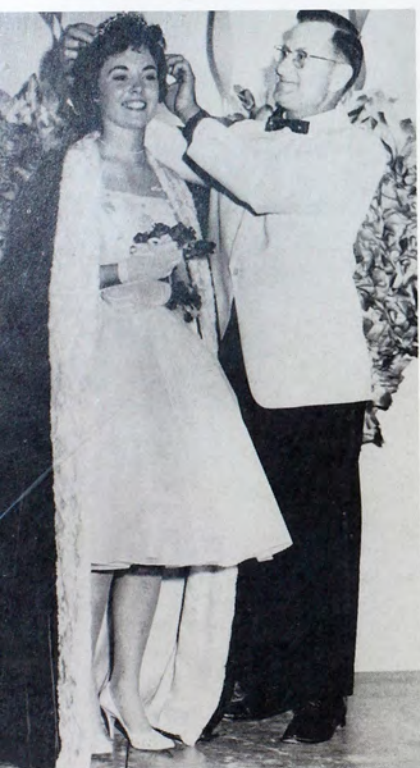

Book-loading girls is favorite male pastime during Leap Week.

February Features Cupid and Leap Week

Cupid's formal, the Sweetheart Ball, February 10, made a freshman girl happy. Carol Lipp was crowned Sweetheart Queen by Dr. Howard Reynolds and sponsored by Residence Hall; Sweetheart King was Jim Nelson, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta. Attending the royal couple were Denny Koch, sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma; Patty Potter, Phi Sigma Epsilon; Barbara Warner, Kappa Sigma Kappa; and John Farney, Agnew Hall.

Leap Week, February 19-22, is by custom the girls' week to take the initiative. Girls arranged their own dates, started cold cars, opened doors, paid the tab, and finding their bank accounts at low ebb by the end of the week were generally glad to forget about Daisy Mae and welcome all the courtesies of male companionship.

Dr. Howard Reynolds crowns Carol Lipp, the 1962 Sweetheart Queen.

Virginia Smrecka and Bruce Ward were the best costumed at the Leap Week Dance.

Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe candidates are in a close penny race with the proceeds donated to the IRC Scholarship Fund.

Sweetheart Ball dancers enjoy Cupid's night.

Dr. Herren may look relaxed, but is a director ever truly relaxed?

The 110-voice Choral Union, a selected 34-piece orchestra, and six soloists, all under direction of Dr. Lloyd Herren, present "Elijah."

Springtime Is Show Time

Spring brings performances—productions—musicals. Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "Elijah" was a co-operative endeavor of Choral Union and the College-Community Orchestra and ushered in the Lenten season.

Mary Maude Moore's Impromptuos, Women's Glee Club, Miss Barbour's Orchestis dancers and guest performers gave "Poise and Ivy" as a benefit, netting more than $600 for National Defense Loans. "Brigadoon," staged in mid-March by the Concert Choir was a featured spring show, too late for the Reville cameraman to capture more than an early practice shot.

"Me and My Shadow" featured LuAnne Engel and Janet Finley in "Poise and Ivy."

Bill Fritschen, Beth Fellers and Marvin Cochran pose in a practice scene from "Brigadoon."

There wasn't room for another person to see "Poise and Ivy"—presented in the Union Ball Room.

This Is Fort Hays State

Students go wild when the Tigers win crucial game with St. Benedict's—and hopes soar for a spot in the N.A.I.A. tourney. John Glenn orbits the earth and students jam the Union TV area to share the rejoicing over the accomplishment.

Enthusiasm knows no bounds when there's something worth shouting about. THIS IS FORT HAYS STATE—Spring, 1962.

It's all over but the shouting. T. Banister and T. Miller "whooped it up."

A small part of the millions who watched Col. John Glenn's epochal flight.

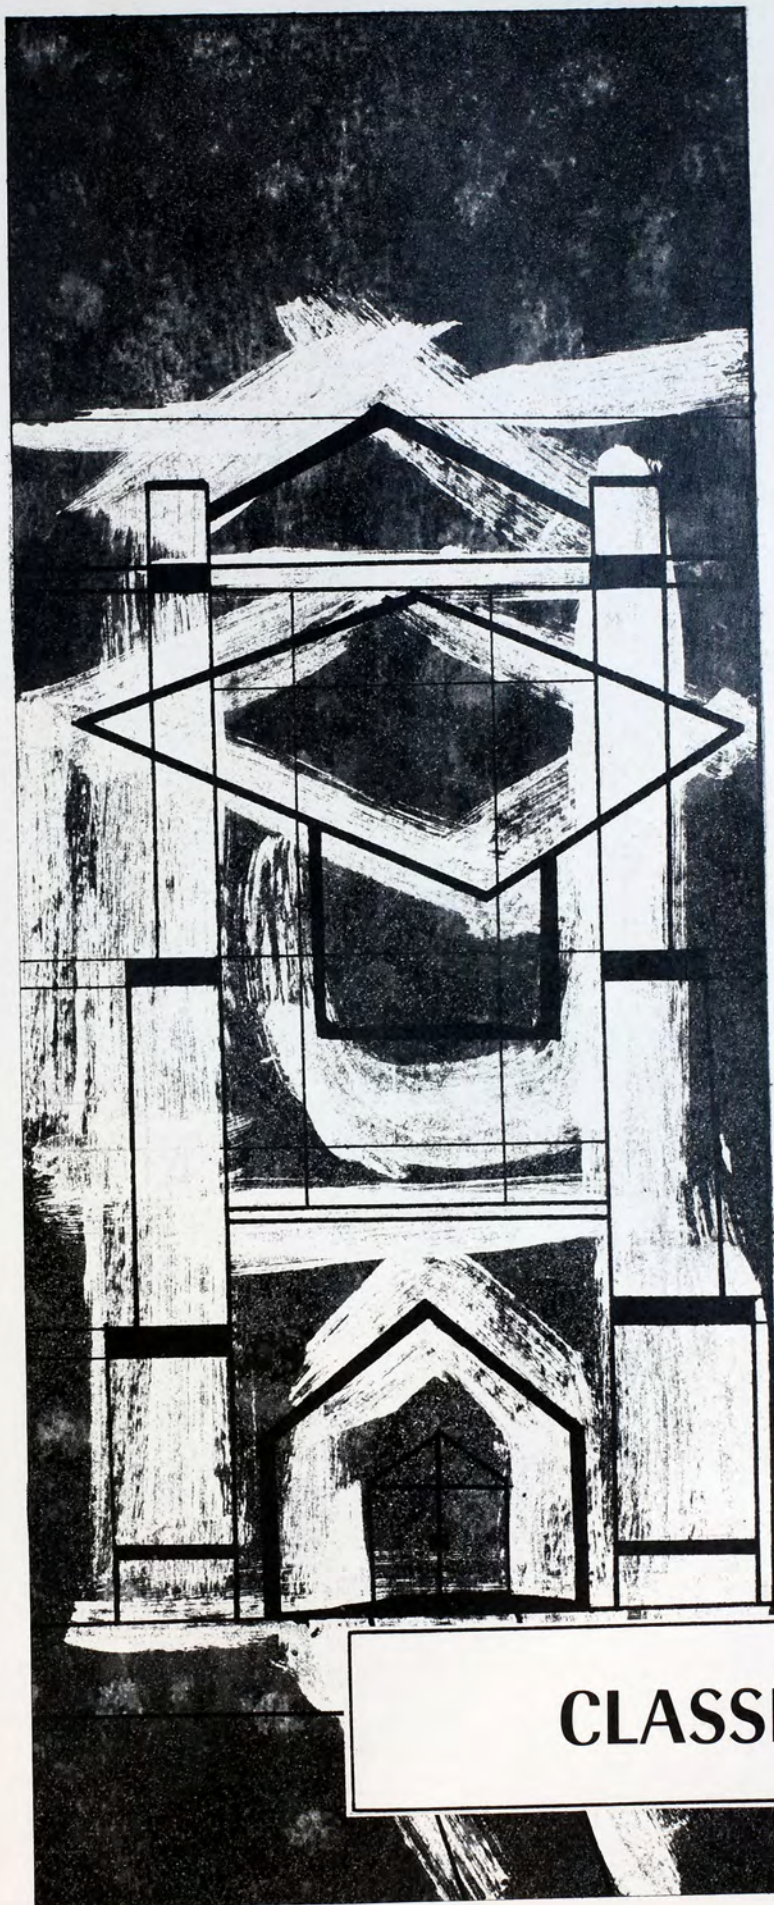

They came early—with sack lunches and deck of cards—They clapped and sang and cheered—and the Tigers wrapped up a CIC championship.

A college year is ended, the plan and construction of your year was built with stones of knowledge, understanding, and achievement; cemented with activities and friendships.

Freshmen sadly recall the Tug of War as sophomores gloat of their victory and each student ponders his major field of study while fulfilling his general requirements. The junior takes English proficiency tests and declares his major; the senior, as commencement approaches, contemplates his working role in adult society.

In each class students have matured to accept a new and more challenging role as they build for tomorrow.

CLASSES

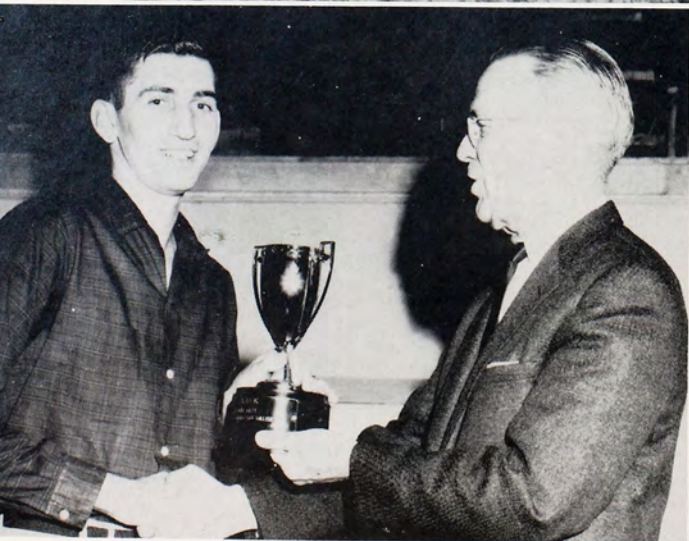

The aftermath of the Tug of War, oo-o that cold, slimy mud.

Everyone made noise when basketball season opened and Kappa Sigs won the trophy.

Passing the English proficiency test is one of the bugaboos of the junior year.

Library card files become a familiar reference to all students.

The academic structure is nearly complete.

Graduate Division

Graduate students may earn three advanced degrees at FHS—master of arts, master of science, or specialist in education. One of the most rapidly growing divisions of the college offers graduate courses in 11 subject fields to approximately 250 students.

The deep probing of individual investigation and research, the creative work of the artist and writer, experiments of the chemist and scientist is climaxed by a thesis or master's report and demands a level of study and concentration beyond that of the undergraduate student.

Advertisers representing Hays businesses not only contribute to the Reveille and other student publications but also lend their support to the college scholarship program.

These merchants are a part of the total structure of the college—supplying added facilities for maintenance and operation of the college, employment for students, support for the academic, sports, and activity programs of the college. The co-operation and assistance of these men and the industries they represent is needed and appreciated by the college.

A college and community grow together as each profits from the other and each contributes to the success of both. The Farmers State Bank illustrates the solid foundation and progress which mark the growth and building of the city's business district.

ADVERTISING

Fort Hays Staters take time off from the study-activity whirl to do some needed shopping.

A young student mother enjoys the fascination of the children's department.

An undetermined number of college students are at least partially self-supporting because of employment in downtown Hays.

Well, potato chips may be a good start but let's check the grocery list.

IN APPRECIATION

Where does an editor begin to say thanks . . . unless first to the students and instructors who are the builders in story and picture of the 1962 Reveille. A yearbook is chiefly indebted and responsible to the students which it represents and its production would be impossible without their time and co-operation.

Undeniably the 1962 Reveille is the creation of a hard-working, reliable yearbook staff freely giving their time day and night to scheduling pictures, arranging layout, compiling and writing copy until the final page is typed and ready for approval. Thanks to every staff member. Co-ordination of the staff is achieved through the guidance and direction of "Mrs. R.," (Mrs. Katherine Rogers), sponsor. A simple thank you is scarcely adequate for one who is the backbone of every editor and staff. To her advice and encouragement, recognition and appreciation are thankfully given.

Special thanks go to Malcolm Applegate and the News Service photographers whose time and patience in composing, printing and developing hundreds of pictures provide the strength and continuity to the Reveille's story. To Ekey's Studio for class pictures and Guercio's Studio for royalty, thanks is also given.

The designs symbolizing the various divisions of the yearbook are the work of Garry Ball, art editor. His creative ability and originality deserve credit as he contributed to the theme's portrayal. To Garry and Bob Lathem, who helped design the cover, a gracious thank you. For the novel photography of the montage on the end sheets, thanks is due to the skill of Terry Banister.

The Memorial Union personnel merits a big vote of thanks for assistance in providing space for both class and organization pictures.

That this yearbook is now in your possession is due only to Taylor Publishing Co., Dallas, and their representative, Paul McClellan.

The story is told; the book awaits a dusty corner shelf, but it will be brought down again and 1962 will be re-lived for those who built a year at Fort Hays Kansas State College.
